City To Request Federal Help On Sewage Plant

Council Authorizes Parkinson To Seek Financial Assistance

Council Wednesday night authorized City Manager James F. Parkinson to make application to the federal government for financial assistance in enlarging the city's sewage treatment plant and approved four fire protection ordinances.

The sewage plant resolution did not specify the amount of assistance to be requested, but Parkinson indicated that a federal grant of approximately 30 per cent of the estimated $430,000 cost will be sought.

The resolution points out that the expense entailed in the improvement program, ordered by the Ohio Department of Health and the Water Pollution Control Board, represents a "heavy financial burden on the city". The present plant has been operated for nearly 25 years.

Bird and Teitzel, Columbus, the engineers employed by the city to plan the sewage plant expansion, submitted a preliminary report last summer. That report received approval of the Pollution Control Board.

Next step will be the preparation by the engineers of detailed plans and specifications. The engineering firm ultimately will receive 7½ per cent of the total cost of the project. Approximately $3,000 already has been expended for the preliminary studies.

THE FIRE protection ordinances, passed under suspension of rules, provide:

(1) That the city manager be authorized to renew present three-year contracts for the interchange of fire equipment and personnel with both the City of Chillicothe and the Village of Greenfield in case of emergency. In each case an "emergency" is to exist when the mayors, city manager or fire chiefs of the contracting parties feel that additional equipment and personnel is needed to prevent spread of fire or consequent damage or loss of property and life. Equipment to be furnished will be one piece of fire apparatus manned by at least two qualified firefighters.

(2) That the city manager be authorized to enter into a contract with the Board of Trustees of Union Township for furnishing city fire protection to Union Township residents. This is a renewal of the present contract which provides

Second Pen Guard Held in Dope Probe

COLUMBUS (AP)—A second guard at Ohio Penitentiary has been arrested for investigation into drug-smuggling into the prison.

Police said William E. Armentrout, 50, of suburban Grove City, was arrested Wednesday when he reported for work at the prison. Under questioning, he denied any part in drug-smuggling.

Three others, including a newlywed couple, were arrested previously. First to be arrested last week was prison guard Olen E. Roshon, 54, of Basil. He was bound to the grand jury.

Still held in city prison for investigation are Robert D. King, 26, and his bride of seven weeks, Lola, 22, of Columbus. They were arrested Tuesday. King works for a wholesale drug firm.

Retiring Rural Mail Carriers Represent 81 Years of Service

CONGRATULATIONS!—That's what Charles Virgil Sexton (left) and Harry H. Hiser are saying to each other after they were honored at a banquet Wednesday night marking their retirement from the postal service. The men have 81 years of experience in the department between them. (Record-Herald photo)

Two rural mail carriers with 81 years of postal service between them will make their last deliveries Friday.

Charles Virgil Sexton, 1019 N. North St., who has been in the Post Office since March 3, 1913, and Harry H. Hiser, who has been delivering mail since Feb. 7, 1918, each received an honorary recognition certificate signed by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, at a banquet honoring them Wednesday night at Anderson's Drive-In.

Washington C. H. Postmaster Clark Wickensimer presented the certificates to the two 70-year-old veterans.

SEXTON who has been delivering on Route 6 since 1939, remarked that "There are a lot of good folks on the route, and I sure hate to lose them."

Sexton recalled several incidents during his years of carrying the mail:

"In 1950 I was caught in the big blizzard, and I was on Boyd Rd., a mile from the nearest house. The temperature had fallen below zero, and for a while there, I didn't think I was going to make it. When I finally did get through, I found that mine was the last car to make it.

"I still wonder how I did it," he said thoughtfully. Sexton also remembers another run-in with the elements. "It was about 14 below zero, and I got myself a flat tire," he said. "I was wearing light clothing, and I thought I'd freeze to death trying to change the thing. Just then a man came along and saw my predicament."

" 'Don't worry about a thing,' he told me," Sexton remembered. "The man told me to get under cover, and said he'd change the tire for me." Sexton smiled and recalled, "He did it, too."

Sexton has a wife, four children, and six grandchildren. One son, Edward, has followed in his father's footsteps and is delivering mail. Another son, Charles, is an

Traffic Toll Dipping Down

Safety Council Amazed By Sudden Reversal

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic death toll has taken a sharp drop, a turn the National Safety Council calls "amazing."

The council reported today that motor vehicle fatalities slumped 12 per cent in October. It stated that the abrupt downturn:

1. Halted a rise that had extended through 19 consecutive months.

2. Completely reversed the normal seasonal trend.

3. Set up a chance to keep the 1956 total from reaching record heights.

Deaths on the streets and roads in October numbered 3,450. That was 12 per cent under the number who died in October, 1955. And it was the lowest toll for any October since 1949.

"Not since January of 1948," the council said, "had traffic deaths been reduced as much as 12 per cent in any month."

Usually fatalities are higher in October than in any preceding month of a year.

COUNCIL statisticians said that, if the rising trend of the first nine months of this year had carried through October, the October death total would have been about 800 higher.

"Credit for this improvement," stated Ned H. Dearborn, council president, "must go mainly to the average driver and pedestrian, and certainly to alert public officials who were alarmed over the fact that the traffic accident problem was getting out of hand. We are getting action."

Traffic fatalities in the first 10 months of this year added up to 32,420. The total was 5 per cent higher than in corresponding period of 1955. But at the end of nine months it was 8 per cent higher.

Milkman Kills Self after Tryst Bared

LITTLE VALLEY, N. Y. (AP)—A young milkman, found in the room where a woman was slain by her husband, Wednesday night killed himself outside of the funeral home where the woman's body was resting.

A wreath of red roses "for Sue" and a note were beside him.

Police said Albert Marsh Jr., 24, a delivery man for a dairy in this western New York community, shot himself in the head with a .22 caliber rifle.

The body of Mrs. Sue Ann Riggs, 24, mother of three children, had been taken to the funeral home earlier in the day.

Sheriff Morgan L. Sigel identified Marsh as the man found in a closet of Mrs. Riggs' bedroom early Wednesday by her husband, Ralph, 26, a draftsman.

The sheriff said the note found in Marsh's car read: "I am sorry that I have to do this. Life without Sue is nothing."

A note with the wreath of two dozen roses said: "These roses are for Sue."

Dr. Harry C. Law, county coroner, issued a certificate of suicide.

Riggs told police he shot his wife three times in the head with a .32 caliber pistol during a quarrel. He returned home from a dinner with fellow employes to find Mrs. Riggs with Marsh, he said.

Riggs was charged with first-degree murder.

Examiners File Report On City School Audit

A report on the examination of Washington C. H. School District records for the period from Aug. 31, 1955, to Sept. 29, 1956, has been released by the Ohio Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices.

It is signed by State Examiners, Robert W. Barnes and R. E. LeBeau, Sr., and approved by E. A. Keller, deputy inspector.

In a letter preceding receipt of the report, State Auditor James A. Rhodes, who supervises the state examining division, had congratulated the board on its management of city school affairs and gave special commendation to Fred Rost, the board's clerk treasurer.

PREFACING the examination report is the customary financial statement which shows the total of board's general account funds on the closing day of the audit as $73,796.56.

Total general fund disbursements during the audit period were $536,058.99 and bond retirement fund disbursements were $9,567.50. Total net existing bonded debt is $29,500.

The examiners note the completeness and accuracy of the records prepared by the clerk and add this paragraph:

"Mr. Fred Rost has served as clerk during the entire period of this examination. Mr. Rost was reappointed clerk for the calendar year 1956 at the board's annual reorganization meeting on Jan. 2, 1956. The clerk is a full-time employe whose other duties in addition to those as clerk, consist of

Steelworker Opens Battle Against Union

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 37-year-old steelworker who earns $6,500 a year says he will accept the challenge of possible union disciplinary action in his fight to have the United Steelworkers rescind a $2 monthly dues hike.

The challenge was laid down by David J. McDonald, $50,000-a-year president of the 1,200,000 member union.

Don Rarick, chairman of a self-styled "International Dues Protest Committee" within the union, said he not only will press his fight for a special union convention to rescind the dues hike but will continue his campaign to get enough support to run against McDonald next February when the USW holds its elections.

McDonald wound up a two-day meeting of the USW's 32-member executive board Wednesday by saying Rarick and his followers were acting illegally under the USW constitution in demanding a special convention to rescind the dues hike.

Rarick's committee was formed about two months ago in the wake of the USW National Convention which authorized that dues be $5 monthly. They were $3.

The union chief threatened possible disciplinary action against those in the Rarick movement.

Rarick said he is "acting legally" under the union constitution and suggested that McDonald read it.

Columbus Cops To Call on Voters

COLUMBUS (AP) — A spokesman for the city's Fraternal Order of Police said Wednesday that off-duty policemen and their families will begin house-to-house distribution of pamphlets explaining the need for higher police wages.

The policemen are seeking a minimum starting wage for patrolmen of $412 a month with automatic increases to a minimum of $502 a month after five years.

New Pleadings Ask Dismissal Of School Case

Miami Trace, County Boards Cite Stand On Citizens' Panel

Contending that there are only two school districts in Fayette County now—the Miami Trace District and the Washington C. H. district—both the Miami Trace and Fayette County boards of education (and former members) ask that the petition of Sam B. Marting and a dozen other taxpayers requesting the formation of a citizen's school committee be dismissed.

The request is contained in answers filed by the defendant boards to the taxpayers' amended petition. The answers were filed Wednesday afternoon.

Three school districts are required for the formation of a citizens committee, the defendants contend.

THE TAXPAYERS' suit was filed in Probate Court here last May 4, and Judge John H. Houston of Brown County was assigned to hear it after Judge Robert L. Brubaker disqualified himself.

The request for a dismissal of the taxpayers' petition hinges on the transfer of the Bloomingburg, Jefferson and Paint districts to the Miami Trace District.

Judge Houston in his ruling Sept. 20 on a demurrer filed by the Miami Trace and Fayette County boards, held that the transfer of the three districts had been accomplished without remonstrance and that the new district should stand as one. He also held that the Fayette County District should be considered as a district in itself.

These two and the Washington C. H. district would make three school districts in the county, sufficient for the formation of a citizens' committee.

HOWEVER, the Fayette County board in its answer to the amended petition contends that "a county school district, being supervisory in nature, is not a school district within the meaning and intention of section 3311.30 of the revised code of Ohio." This would leave only two districts—the Miami Trace and Washington C. H.—insufficient to form a citizens' committee.

In its answer filed Wednesday, the Fayette County board says the Washington C. H. board has not elected to join any citizens' committee, other than a committee to be composed of representatives of the Paint, Bloomingburg, Jefferson, Miami Trace and Washington C. H. districts.

While the answer of the Miami Trace board is brief, actually condensed into 39 words, the Fayette County board's answer not only goes into greater detail on reasons for the dismissal request, but also submits two questions to the Washington C. H. school board. They are:

Cincy Workhouse Escapee Nabbed

CINCINNATI (AP)—William Pike, 21, of Pomeroy, who escaped from the workhouse here Wednesday, was captured Wednesday night in a stolen automobile near his home, police reported.

Hargis Smith, 22, of Hamilton, who also escaped by scaling a 20-foot wall, was still at large.

Pike was sentenced on Oct. 10 to nine months in the workhouse and fined $268 for driving while under suspension. Smith was sentenced two weeks ago to 23 months and was fined $800 on a charge of tending to cause the delinquency of a minor.

$20.50 Pound Paid For Prize Steer

CHICAGO (AP)—The grand champion steer of the 1956 International Livestock Exposition sold today for $20.50 a pound, a record.

Purchaser of the steer was the Greenbrier Hotel, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

The grand champ, a senior yearling Shorthorn named P S Troubadour, wighed 985 pounds when it won the title Tuesday. But it gained 10 pounds since then and weighed in after the sale today at 995. Thus, it will bring its owner, Pennsylvania State University, $20,397.50.

The previous record price for a steer at this show was $20 a pound paid for a Hereford.

Is Britain Ready To Quit Egypt?

Assembly Defeats Lausche Proposal

COLUMBUS (AP) — Despite the crushing defeat handed his utility-seizure proposal by a special session of the Ohio Legislature Wednesday, Gov. Frank J. Lausche is convinced that "good will come from the calling of the session."

In a vote in the Ohio House, 110 ballots were cast against the plan, none for. Twenty-nine members were not present.

That action, for all practical purposes, ended the legislative session Lausche had called for consideration of the special bill designed to end a six-week telephone blackout in Portsmouth.

Since special sessions are limited to consideration of only the matters listed in the governor's call, the session which started Monday seemingly accomplished nothing. Clerks of the two Houses estimated last week the session would cost the taxpayers "not a penny less than $5,000."

And still unsolved was the problem of restoring even partial service to Portsmouth and normal service to the rest of the 24-county system served by the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co.

THE DEFEATED measure was Lausche's proposed solution for the strike of the Communications Workers of America against Ohio Consolidated. The strike began July 15.

The Portsmouth area telephone blackout began Oct. 15 after rock-throwing incidents at telephone exchanges there. The company has refused to reopen the exchanges until it is assured of what it calls "adequate" police protection.

After the House vote, Lausche issued a statement which said:

"Regardless of the action of the Legislature, the fact remains that ultimate good will come from the calling of the special session.

"The potential inconveniences, difficulties and dangers that come to the general citizenry in consequence of the stoppage of operation of a public utility have been pointedly brought to the attention of the Legislature and the public.

"Inevitably prudent and properly intentioned legislators will continue to give study to the problem. Out of it, in my opinion, there will come from some future Legislature an act, the provisions of which will make impossible the recurrence of a protracted shutdown of services rendered by a public utility company.

"MY EXPECTATION and request has been that the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. would and will reopen its plant. If it does so, I would expect the local law enforcement officials to perform their duty; but regardless of their action, the state of Ohio will see to it that the property and personnel of the company will be provided with the fullest protection of law and order."

Lausche had proposed a law giving the governor authority to seize and operate public utilities hit or threatened with service-disrupting strikes. Legislative leaders told Lausche in advance of the special session that such a law had no chance of passage.

House Judiciary Committee turned thumbs down on it, 21-0, and later reported to the full House the proposal would not solve the Portsmouth crisis. It had these objections to the bill:

1. It would be unconstitutional because it would permit seizure of private property without paying for it first.

2. The legislative field already has been pre-empted by the federal government in the Taft-Hartley Act.

3. The proposed law was defective as drawn, and revisions could

Iraqi Premier Standing Firm

Syrian Criticism Fails To Stir Nuri

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Iraq's Premier Nuri Said is reported standing firm against a mounting campaign aimed at stirring up trouble in Iraq and discrediting his government. The controlling pro-Soviet army clique in Syria and the Egyptian government are believed sponsoring the campaign.

Khalil Ibrahim, Iraqi information director, declared the Premier has no intention of quitting his post or making changes in his Cabinet "for the time being."

The Baghdad military governor broadcast an appeal to the people urging them to be calm and not to yield to "subversive elements" which the government says are trying to incite widespread demonstrations.

Nuri's government denied reports that dozens of persons have been killed and wounded in Iraq's main cities. It reiterated that only two civilians were killed and some police and civilians wounded in a clash in the holy Moslem city of Najaf, in southwest Iraq.

DAMASCUS RADIO declared 104 Iraqis were killed in four days of antigovernment demonstrations in Najaf. It asserted the "victims fell by police fire" as they protested against Nuri's government and demanded support for Egypt.

Iraq has accused Syria of waging a campaign of subversion against the Nuri government. Syria has charged Iraq with seeking to undermine the governments of both Syria and Jordan. Egyptian President Nasser is believed spurring the Syrians on.

Evidence of Syria's propaganda campaign is as marked in Baghdad as in Lebanon. It is sparked by radio broadcasts of inflammatory rumors.

Hungary Facing U. N. Assembly Rap

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold will open the way for General Assembly action on Hungary's refusal to let in U.N. observers unless he gets definite word today from Budapest, informed sources said.

The informants said the secretary general had decided to set the immediate deadline on reporting success or failure to the Assembly after more than two weeks of evasive answers from representatives of Hungary's Russian-puppet government.

A U.N. spokesman said Hammarskjold spoke to Hungary's foreign minister Horvath again Wednesday night and got the usual reply that word had not come down from Budapest.

Subsequently Moscow radio said Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar told a correspondent of the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda he was standing fast on his decision to bar both U. N. observers and Hammarskjold from Hungary.

A decision by Hammarskjold to place the matter before the Assembly at this stage could unleash a growing campaign among delegates to expel the Hungarians from the world body they joined less than a year ago.

CUBAN DELEGATE Emilio Nunez-Portuondo called on the Assembly earlier this week to throw out the Hungarian delegation if the Budapest regime persisted in brushing off U. N. requests for an on-the-spot check.

In opposing the Assembly resolutions, both the Hungarian and Soviet delegations have contended the situation in Hungary is an internal affair and none of the U. N.'s business. Kadar repeated this to the Pravda correspondent.

The Hungarians said two weeks ago, however, that they would allow U. N. relief supplies to enter their borders and indicated they would let U. N. personnel go along.

This prompted Hammarskjold to suggest that he accompany a relief mission into Budapest. The Hungarians have not given a formal reply to this offer.

However, said Kadar told Pravda "the U. N. secretary general has been sent enough material documents and testimonies. We suggested a meeting with him in Rome and are not to blame for the fact that it did not materialize."

Cabinet Aide Planning Talks With French

British Official Says Nation Now Convinced Withdrawal Necessary

LONDON (AP)—The British government is reported convinced now it must soon pull out of Egypt, but a cabinet spokesman delayed making the official announcement.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd deferred a final statement on plans for a withdrawal pending consultations Friday with French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau.

Lloyd told the House of Commons he intended to make "a further statement" next Monday.

"The statement today can only be of an interim character," the foreign secretary said. "There are important questions to be decided and they must be discussed with our French allies before decisions can be announced."

A qualified British official says the London cabinet is now convinced it must pull out of Egypt in a few days.

Meanwhile, Egypt repeated again its call for an immediate withdrawal of all British, French and Israeli troops from Egypt and said U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold had been asked to fix a time limit for the pull-out.

WING CMDR. Ali Sabry, President Nasser's top political adviser, said Egypt made the request through Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi. Sabry said:

"If the invaders ignore decisions of the U. N., Egypt can take many steps which we cannot divulge now, but I cannot guarantee that these steps will not lead to world war."

Sabry denied that there was any Communist influence in Egypt.

"We did not shake off one country to be taken over by another," he declared. "Our policy toward Russia as a state is something and toward communism as an ideology is something else."

A British informant said the government planned to insist only that the United Nations and Egypt clear the Suez Canal at once.

Views of the U. S. government appeared to have influenced Lloyd to a considerable extent, something that would be certain to infuriate a large group of Conservatives who feel the United States has sold out the British all along in Egypt.

WITHDRAWAL from Egypt would provoke a split in the ruling Conservative party which could bring down the government of Prime Minister Eden, now recuperating in Jamaica from "overstrain" after directing Britain's invasion of Egypt.

Nearly a third of the Conservatives in the House of Commons have already shown their desire for British troops to remain in Egypt by endorsing a motion deploring the U. N. Assembly demands for "immediate and unconditional withdrawal."

Although the opposition Laborites vigorously criticized the invasion of Egypt, they could be expected to meet any policy splitting the government party with a motion of nonconfidence.

Such a motion would be framed in terms to force the Conservative opponents of withdrawal to choose between reversing their stand or abandoning the government. If defeated on such a motion, Eden's cabinet would have to resign and Sheriff Morgan L. Sigel identified Marsh as the man found in a closet of Mrs. Riggs' bedroom early Wednesday by her husband, Ralph, 26, a draftsman.

The sheriff said the note found in Marsh's car read: "I am sorry that I have to do this. Life without Sue is nothing."

A note with the wreath of two dozen roses said: "These roses are for Sue."

Dr. Harry C. Law, county coroner, issued a certificate of suicide.

Riggs told police he shot his wife three times in the head with a .32 caliber pistol during a quarrel. He returned home from a dinner with fellow employes to find Mrs. Riggs with Marsh, he said.

Riggs was charged with first-degree murder.

Examiners File Report On City School Audit

A report on the examination of Washington C. H. School District records for the period from Aug. 31, 1955, to Sept. 29, 1956, has been released by the Ohio Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices.

It is signed by State Examiners, Robert W. Barnes and R. E. LeBeau, Sr., and approved by E. A. Keller, deputy inspector.

In a letter preceding receipt of the report, State Auditor James A. Rhodes, who supervises the state examining division, had congratulated the board on its management of city school affairs and gave special commendation to Fred Rost, the board's clerk treasurer.

PREFACING the examination report is the customary financial statement which shows the total of board's general account funds on the closing day of the audit as $73,796.56.

Total general fund disbursements during the audit period were $536,058.99 and bond retirement fund disbursements were $9,567.50. Total net existing bonded debt is $29,500.

The examiners note the completeness and accuracy of the records prepared by the clerk and add this paragraph:

"Mr. Fred Rost has served as clerk during the entire period of this examination. Mr. Rost was reappointed clerk for the calendar year 1956 at the board's annual reorganization meeting on Jan. 2, 1956. The clerk is a full-time employe whose other duties in addition to those as clerk, consist of

Steelworker Opens Battle Against Union

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 37-year-old steelworker who earns $6,500 a year says he will accept the challenge of possible union disciplinary action in his fight to have the United Steelworkers rescind a $2 monthly dues hike.

The challenge was laid down by David J. McDonald, $50,000-a-year president of the 1,200,000 member union.

Don Rarick, chairman of a self-styled "International Dues Protest Committee" within the union, said he not only will press his fight for a special union convention to rescind the dues hike but will continue his campaign to get enough support to run against McDonald next February when the USW holds its elections.

McDonald wound up a two-day meeting of the USW's 32-member executive board Wednesday by saying Rarick and his followers were acting illegally under the USW constitution in demanding a special convention to rescind the dues hike.

Rarick's committee was formed about two months ago in the wake of the USW National Convention which authorized that dues be $5 monthly. They were $3.

The union chief threatened possible disciplinary action against those in the Rarick movement.

Rarick said he is "acting legally" under the union constitution and suggested that McDonald read it.

Columbus Cops To Call on Voters

The policemen are seeking a minimum starting wage for patrolmen of $412 a month with automatic increases to a minimum of $502 a month after five years.

New Pleadings Ask Dismissal Of School Case

Miami Trace, County Boards Cite Stand On Citizens' Panel

Contending that there are only two school districts in Fayette County now—the Miami Trace District and the Washington C. H. district—both the Miami Trace and Fayette County boards of education (and former members) ask that the petition of Sam B. Marting and a dozen other taxpayers requesting the formation of a citizen's school committee be dismissed.

The request is contained in answers filed by the defendant boards to the taxpayers' amended petition. The answers were filed Wednesday afternoon.

Three school districts are required for the formation of a citizens committee, the defendants contend.

THE TAXPAYERS' suit was filed in Probate Court here last May 4, and Judge John H. Houston of Brown County was assigned to hear it after Judge Robert L. Brubaker disqualified himself.

The request for a dismissal of the taxpayers' petition hinges on the transfer of the Bloomingburg, Jefferson and Paint districts to the Miami Trace District.

Judge Houston in his ruling Sept. 20 on a demurrer filed by the Miami Trace and Fayette County boards, held that the transfer of the three districts had been accomplished without remonstrance and that the new district should stand as one. He also held that the Fayette County District should be considered as a district in itself.

These two and the Washington C. H. district would make three school districts in the county, sufficient for the formation of a citizens' committee.

HOWEVER, the Fayette County board in its answer to the amended petition contends that "a county school district, being supervisory in nature, is not a school district within the meaning and intention of section 3311.30 of the revised code of Ohio." This would leave only two districts—the Miami Trace and Washington C. H.—insufficient to form a citizens' committee.

In its answer filed Wednesday, the Fayette County board says the Washington C. H. board has not elected to join any citizens' committee, other than a committee to be composed of representatives of the Paint, Bloomingburg, Jefferson, Miami Trace and Washington C. H. districts.

While the answer of the Miami Trace board is brief, actually condensed into 39 words, the Fayette County board's answer not only goes into greater detail on reasons for the dismissal request, but also submits two questions to the Washington C. H. school board. They are:

Hargis Smith, 22, of Hamilton, who also escaped by scaling a 20-foot wall, was still at large.

Pike was sentenced on Oct. 10 to nine months in the workhouse and fined $268 for driving while under suspension. Smith was sentenced two weeks ago to 23 months and was fined $800 on a charge of tending to cause the delinquency of a minor.

$20.50 Pound Paid For Prize Steer

CHICAGO (AP)—The grand champion steer of the 1956 International Livestock Exposition sold today for $20.50 a pound, a record.

Purchaser of the steer was the Greenbrier Hotel, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

The grand champ, a senior yearling Shorthorn named P S Troubadour, wighed 985 pounds when it won the title Tuesday. But it gained 10 pounds since then and weighed in after the sale today at 995. Thus, it will bring its owner, Pennsylvania State University, $20,397.50.

The previous record price for a steer at this show was $20 a pound paid for a Hereford.

Is Britain Ready To Quit Egypt?

Assembly Defeats Lausche Proposal

COLUMBUS (AP) — Despite the crushing defeat handed his utility-seizure proposal by a special session of the Ohio Legislature Wednesday, Gov. Frank J. Lausche is convinced that "good will come from the calling of the session."

In a vote in the Ohio House, 110 ballots were cast against the plan, none for. Twenty - nine members were not present.

That action, for all practical purposes, ended the legislative session Lausche had called for consideration of the special bill designed to end a six-week telephone blackout in Portsmouth.

Since special sessions are limited to consideration of only the matters listed in the governor's call, the session which started Monday seemingly accomplished nothing. Clerks of the two Houses estimated last week the session would cost the taxpayers "not a penny less than $5,000."

And still unsolved was the problem of restoring even partial service to Portsmouth and normal service to the rest of the 24-county system served by the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co.

THE DEFEATED measure was Lausche's proposed solution for the strike of the Communications Workers of America against Ohio Consolidated. The strike began July 15.

The Portsmouth area telephone blackout began Oct. 15 after rock-throwing incidents at telephone exchanges there. The company has refused to reopen the exchanges until it is assured of what it calls "adequate" police protection.

After the House vote, Lausche issued a statement which said:

"Regardless of the action of the Legislature, the fact remains that ultimate good will come from the calling of the special session.

"The potential inconveniences, difficulties and dangers that come to the general citizenry in consequence of the stoppage of operation of a public utility have been pointedly brought to the attention of the Legislature and the public.

"Inevitably prudent and properly intentioned legislators will continue to give study to the problem. Out of it, in my opinion, there will come from some future Legislature an act, the provisions of which will make impossible the recurrence of a protracted shutdown of services rendered by a public utility company.

"MY EXPECTATION and request has been that the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. would and will reopen its plant. If it does so, I would expect the local law enforcement officials to perform their duty; but regardless of their action, the state of Ohio will see to it that the property and personnel of the company will be provided with the fullest protection of law and order."

Lausche had proposed a law giving the governor authority to seize and operate public utilities hit or threatened with service-disrupting strikes. Legislative leaders told Lausche in advance of the special session that such a law had no chance of passage.

House Judiciary Committee turned thumbs down on it, 21-0, and later reported to the full House the proposal would not solve the Portsmouth crisis. It had these objections to the bill:

1. It would be unconstitutional because it would permit seizure of private property without paying for it first.

2. The legislative field already has been pre-empted by the federal government in the Taft-Hartley Act.

3. The proposed law was defective as drawn, and revisions could

Iraqi Premier Standing Firm

Syrian Criticism Fails To Stir Nuri

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Iraq's Premier Nuri Said is reported standing firm against a mounting campaign aimed at stirring up trouble in Iraq and discrediting his government. The controlling pro-Soviet army clique in Syria and the Egyptian government are believed sponsoring the campaign.

Khalil Ibrahim, Iraqi information director, declared the Premier has no intention of quitting his post or making changes in his Cabinet "for the time being."

The Baghdad military governor broadcast an appeal to the people urging them to be calm and not to yield to "subversive elements" which the government says are trying to incite widespread demonstrations.

Nuri's government denied reports that dozens of persons have been killed and wounded in Iraq's main cities. It reiterated that only two civilians were killed and some police and civilians wounded in a clash in the holy Moslem city of Najaf, in southwest Iraq.

DAMASCUS RADIO declared 104 Iraqis were killed in four days of antigovernment demonstrations in Najaf. It asserted the "victims fell by police fire" as they protested against Nuri's government and demanded support for Egypt.

Iraq has accused Syria of waging a campaign of subversion against the Nuri government. Syria has charged Iraq with seeking to undermine the governments of both Syria and Jordan. Egyptian President Nasser is believed spurring the Syrians on.

Evidence of Syria's propaganda campaign is as marked in Baghdad as in Lebanon. It is sparked by radio broadcasts of inflammatory rumors.

Hungary Facing U.N. Assembly Rap

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold will open the way for General Assembly action on Hungary's refusal to let in U.N. observers unless he gets definite word today from Budapest, informed sources said.

The informants said the secretary general had decided to set the immediate deadline on reporting success or failure to the Assembly after more than two weeks of evasive answers from representatives of Hungary's Russian-puppet government.

A U.N. spokesman said Hammarskjold spoke to Hungary's foreign minister Horvath again Wednesday night and got the usual reply that word had not come down from Budapest.

Subsequently Moscow radio said Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar told a correspondent of the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda he was standing fast on his decision to bar both U. N. observers and Hammarskjold from Hungary.

A decision by Hammarskjold to place the matter before the Assembly at this stage could unleash a growing campaign among delegates to expel the Hungarians from the world body they joined less than a year ago.

CUBAN DELEGATE Emilio Nunez-Portuondo called on the Assembly earlier this week to throw out the Hungarian delegation if the Budapest regime persisted in brushing off U. N. requests for an on-the-spot check.

In opposing the Assembly resolutions, both the Hungarian and Soviet delegations have contended the situation in Hungary is an internal affair and none of the U. N.'s business. Kadar repeated this to the Pravda correspondent.

The Hungarians said two weeks ago, however, that they would allow U. N. relief supplies to enter their borders and indicated they would let U. N. personnel go along.

This prompted Hammarskjold to suggest that he accompany a relief mission into Budapest. The Hungarians have not given a formal reply to this offer.

However, said Kadar told Pravda "the U. N. secretary general has been sent enough material documents and testimonies. We suggested a meeting with him in Rome and are not to blame for the fact that it did not materialize."

Cabinet Aide Planning Talks With French

British Official Says Nation Now Convinced Withdrawal Necessary

LONDON (AP)—The British government is reported convinced now it must soon pull out of Egypt, but a cabinet spokesman delayed making the official announcement.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd deferred a final statement on plans for a withdrawal pending consultations Friday with French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau.

Lloyd told the House of Commons he intended to make "a further statement" next Monday.

"The statement today can only be of an interim character," the foreign secretary said. "There are important questions to be decided and they must be discussed with our French allies before decisions can be announced."

A qualified British official says the London cabinet is now convinced it must pull out of Egypt in a few days.

Meanwhile, Egypt repeated again its call for an immediate withdrawal of all British, French and Israeli troops from Egypt and said U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold had been asked to fix a time limit for the pull-out.

WING CMDR. Ali Sabry, President Nasser's top political adviser, said Egypt made the request through Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi. Sabry said:

"If the invaders ignore decisions of the U. N., Egypt can take many steps which we cannot divulge now, but I cannot guarantee that these steps will not lead to world war."

Sabry denied that there was any Communist influence in Egypt.

"We did not shake off one country to be taken over by another," he declared. "Our policy toward Russia as a state is something and toward communism as an ideology is something else."

A British informant said the government planned to insist only that the United Nations and Egypt clear the Suez Canal at once.

Views of the U. S. government appeared to have influenced Lloyd to a considerable extent, something that would be certain to infuriate a large group of Conservatives who feel the United States has sold out the British all along in Egypt.

WITHDRAWAL from Egypt would provoke a split in the ruling Conservative party which could bring down the government of Prime Minister Eden, now recuperating in Jamaica from "overstrain" after directing Britain's invasion of Egypt.

Nearly a third of the Conservatives in the House of Commons have already shown their desire for British troops to remain in Egypt by endorsing a motion deploring the U. N. Assembly demands for "immediate and unconditional withdrawal."

Although the opposition Laborites vigorously criticized the invasion of Egypt, they could be expected to meet any policy splitting the government party with a motion of nonconfidence.

Such a motion would be framed in terms to force the Conservative opponents of withdrawal to choose between reversing their stand or abandoning the government. If defeated on such a motion, Eden's cabinet would have to resign and

Damages Denied In Jury Verdict

Youth Loses Suit Over Tractor Mishap

A jury of nine women and three men late Wednesday night brought in a verdict in favor of Lowell Kaufman, Greenfield Rd., who had been sued for $50,000 damages in Common Pleas Court here by Wayne Adams for injuries sustained in a tractor accident four years ago.

The jury was out only a little more than an hour when it reported its verdict, refusing to award damages, at 9:50 p. m.

The suit was brought by Frank Adams, of Greenfield, father of Wayne Adams. The latter was 12 years old at the time of the accident. Judge John P. Case presided at the two - day trial, which opened Monday, recessed over Tuesday, and was concluded Wednesday night.

THE SUIT alleged that Wayne Adams, Larry Adams, also 12 years old at the time, and 15-year-old Norman Adams were employed by Kaufman and that Norman had been told to take the tractor to the McGhee Ranch on Robinson Rd. Jan. 19, 1952. Larry and Wayne were riding on the tractor when it turned over at the junction of Robinson Rd. and E. Elm St. and Wayne, the petition stated, received permanent injuries, including a broken leg.

At the conclusion of the trial, Judge Case commended the jurors for devotion to their duty in the chilly courtroom, in which the temperature at the start of Wednesday's session was only 58 degrees.

A companion suit for $5,678 filed by Frank Adams for medical care and loss of services of his son, is still pending.

Hungarian Refugees Living Anywhere in Austria Today

VIENNA (AP) — Refugees from Hungarian communism are everywhere in Austria—from the straw-covered schoolroom floor in a border village to the Victorian plush of Vienna's Hotel Sacher.

Nearly 100,000 have come into the country in the last month. More than half still live in camps where relief organizations figure they can be kept and fed for a dollar a day.

Those who get into the swank hotels or even into comfortable boarding houses are extremely rare. They have resources of their own.

Along the 125-mile border between Austria and Hungary the Austrian villagers have dropped almost everything but the sugar beet harvest to help their Hungarian neighbors.

All of Burgenland Province belonged to Hungary until after World War I, and many of the older people speak Hungarian. There are 10,000 refugees crowded into the thousand - square - mile area.

AT ANDAU, where thousands fled across the "Freedom Bridge" before the Russians blasted it, pink crepe paper streamers still hang from the rafters of the village inn's dance hall. Dozens of refugees bed down on the straw-strewn floor. High school students come down from Vienna to work around the clock, serving black bread, sausage and coffee on the rough tables.

Little knots of lost-looking refugees stand outside in the rain, waiting for buses to take them to slightly more comfortable camps.

Some of the men wear the fur hats and high leather boots of the central European peasant. Many of the women wear the best clothes they couldn't bear to leave behind, muddy now from the long walk across the fields.

Vienna is the heart of the refugee machine. Here are the consulates of the countries to which the refugees will eventually go, and the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration (ICEM) which will get them to their goals.

Long lines stand every day in front of the Australian and American consulates, and at ICEM headquarters. There are 24 countries that have said they will take refugees in varying numbers. Britain, France and Canada are taking all comers.

The Austrians just roll up their sleeves and help. It's an old sad story to them; they still have 180,000 refugees left from World War II and the cold war.

District and the Fayette County School District?

"Interrogatory No. 2. Does the Washington C. H. City School District now elect to join a citizens' committee, to be selected solely by delegates representing the Washington C. H. City School District, Miami Trace Local School District and the Fayette County School District?"

The Fayette County Board, in its "interrogatories annexed" asked that these questions be answered "fully and plainly under oath" by the Washington C. H. board.

THE Washington C. H. board, (members and former members) were co-defendants in the original taxpayer suit with the Miami Trace and Fayette County boards, but last May 23, took action at a special meeting and instructed its attorney, William Junk, to admit in its answer that the facts set forth in the taxpayer suit are true. Thus, the Washington C. H. board took itself out of the legal fight.

In a nutshell, the Washington C. H. board conceded it had failed to select a delegate to a convention to form a citizens' committee because no such convention had been called.

The board, at that special meeting, also instructed its attorney to say that it joined in the request of the taxpayers that a convention to form a citizens' committee be formed.

The first government employment bureau was established in Paris, France, in 1843.

Charles Hire Nominated By Symposiarch

Charles S. Hire was nominated for president and John Bath and Louis Baer for vice president of the Washington C. H. chapter of Symposiarch at a business session preceding Wednesday night's dinner meeting.

In line with a standing policy of the chapter, the president, usually elevated from the vice presidency, is nominated without opposition, leaving only the vice president to be elected by ballot. Othe officers and the executive committee are appointed.

The report was made by Frank S. Jackson, chairman of the nominating committee.

Judge Max G. Dice, chapter president, explained that additional nominations could be made either at that meeting (there were none) or at the January meeting, when the election is held.

The remainder of the business session was devoted to a discussion of and planning for the annual Christmas party. It is to be a dinner dance, complete with orchestra, at the Country Club Dec. 28.

THE PROGRAM for the evening was in charge of Alfred Hagler and William Junk, with Hagler as the symposiarch to introduce Junk, the speaker.

Junk, straying from his professional field of law, entered the field of literature with his talk on Samuel Clemens, written under the pen name of Mark Twain, whose stories captured the country and took a lasting place in American literature.

He traced his family's westward trek from Virginia through the Ohio River country to Florida, Mo., where the author was born in 1835.

Mark Train, not only left his mark on literature, but also laid the foundation for a lucrative business for Hannibal, Mo., where his family moved when he was 4 years old, Junk said.

Last year, many years after the death of Mark Twain, 127,000 tourists visited Hannibal, a city of about 20,000 on the banks of the Mississippi River, and the setting for many of his best known stories, such as Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn.

Glass in Cheese Ignored by Court

CLEVELAND (AP)—An appellate court has ruled that just because a person bites a piece of glass in a chunk of cheese, it's not cause for a damage award.

The ruling was made Wednesday by the Ninth District Court of Appeals, sitting here by designation, against Mrs. Gladys Tuttle of Cleveland. Mrs. Tuttle had won a $1,500 verdict in municipal court here against Meyer Dairy Products Co. of Cleveland.

But the appellate court, reversing that decision, said Mrs. Tuttle spit out the glass without suffering any cuts.

The trial of Everett Milstead, 407 Western Ave., on a charge of driving while intoxicated, got under way in Municipal Court here at 9:30 a. m. Thursday before a jury of four women and eight men. Judge Max G. Dice was on the bench.

Milstead was arrested about 2 a. m. May 22 by Patrolman Sheline on Columbus Ave. near the junction of Washington Ave. and charged with driving while intoxicated. He pleaded not guilty.

Milstead is represented by J. Harvey Crowe of Urbana. William Junk, Washington C. H. solicitor, is the prosecutor.

(3) That the city manager be authorized to enter into a contract with Thurman Sheeley, Ward Wilt Ralph Penn, A. B. McDonald, Arthur Scott, Emma L. McCoy, Marjorie Baughn and William E. Davis to furnish city fire protection for farm buildings located in Jasper, Paint, Wayne and Concord townships, just over the Union Township line. This contract is to terminate Dec. 31, 1957, or may be terminated by either party on 30-day written notice.

ALL OF parties named are Union Township or Washington C. H. taxpayers. The city is paid $1.00 per minute for all runs to the properties covered by the contract. The expense to the property owner is covered in most instance by their own fire insurance.

Each of the fire ordinances provides that the city shall be immune from damages in connection with the protection service.

In another resolution, Council confirmed the reappointment of Mrs. Gilbert Adams to the city's Zoning Board of Appeals for a term of three years. The city manager pointed out to Council that Mrs. Adams has given "loyal and valuable service" as a member of the group which she has served as secretary since its inception 10 years ago.

Mrs. Irene Stauffer acted as Council clerk in the absence of Miss Marie Melvin, city auditor, who is recovering from an illness.

Damages Denied In Jury Verdict

Youth Loses Suit Over Tractor Mishap

A jury of nine women and three men late Wednesday night brought in a verdict in favor of Lowell Kaufman, Greenfield Rd., who had been sued for $50,000 damages in Common Pleas Court here by Wayne Adams for injuries sustained in a tractor accident four years ago.

The jury was out only a little more than an hour when it reported its verdict, refusing to award damages, at 9:50 p. m.

The suit was brought by Frank Adams, of Greenfield, father of Wayne Adams. The latter was 12 years old at the time of the accident. Judge John P. Case presided at the two - day trial, which opened Monday, recessed over Tuesday, and was concluded Wednesday night.

THE SUIT alleged that Wayne Adams, Larry Adams, also 12 years old at the time, and 15-year-old Norman Adams were employed by Kaufman and that Norman had been told to take the tractor to the McGhee Ranch on Robinson Rd. Jan. 19, 1952. Larry and Wayne were riding on the tractor when it turned over at the junction of Robinson Rd. and E. Elm St. and Wayne, the petition stated, received permanent injuries, including a broken leg.

At the conclusion of the trial, Judge Case commended the jurors for devotion to their duty in the chilly courtroom, in which the temperature at the start of Wednesday's session was only 58 degrees.

A companion suit for $5,678 filed by Frank Adams for medical care and loss of services of his son, is still pending.

Hungarian Refugees Living Anywhere in Austria Today

VIENNA (AP) — Refugees from Hungarian communism are everywhere in Austria—from the straw-covered schoolroom floor in a border village to the Victorian plush of Vienna's Hotel Sacher.

Nearly 100,000 have come into the country in the last month. More than half still live in camps where relief organizations figure they can be kept and fed for a dollar a day.

Those who get into the swank hotels or even into comfortable boarding houses are extremely rare. They have resources of their own.

Along the 125-mile border between Austria and Hungary the Austrian villagers have dropped almost everything but the sugar beet harvest to help their Hungarian neighbors.

All of Burgenland Province belonged to Hungary until after World War I, and many of the older people speak Hungarian. There are 10,000 refugees crowded into the thousand - square - mile area.

AT ANDAU, where thousands fled across the "Freedom Bridge" before the Russians blasted it, pink crepe paper streamers still hang from the rafters of the village inn's dance hall. Dozens of refugees bed down on the straw-strewn floor. High school students come down from Vienna to work around the clock, serving black bread, sausage and coffee on the rough tables.

Little knots of lost-looking refugees stand outside in the rain, waiting for buses to take them to slightly more comfortable camps.

Some of the men wear the fur hats and high leather boots of the central European peasant. Many of the women wear the best clothes they couldn't bear to leave behind, muddy now from the long walk across the fields.

Vienna is the heart of the refugee machine. Here are the consulates of the countries to which the refugees will eventually go, and the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration (ICEM) which will get them to their goals.

Long lines stand every day in front of the Australian and American consulates, and at ICEM headquarters. There are 24 countries that have said they will take refugees in varying numbers. Britain, France and Canada are taking all comers.

The Austrians just roll up their sleeves and help. It's an old sad story to them; they still have 180,000 refugees left from World War II and the cold war.

School Case Answers

District and the Fayette County School District?

"Interrogatory No. 2. Does the Washington C. H. City School District now elect to join a citizens' committee, to be selected solely by delegates r e p r esenting the Washington C. H. City School District, Miami Trace Local School District and the Fayette County School District?"

The Fayette County Board, in its "interrogatories annexed" asked that these questions be answered "fully and plainly under oath" by the Washington C. H. board.

THE Washington C. H. board, (members and former members) were co-defendants in the original taxpayer suit with the Miami Trace and Fayette County boards, but last May 23, took action at a special meeting and instructed its attorney, William Junk, to admit in its answer that the facts set forth in the taxpayer suit are true. Thus, the Washington C. H. board took itself out of the legal fight.

In a nutshell, the Washington C. H. board conceded it had failed to select a delegate to a convention to form a citizens' committee because no such convention had been called.

The board, at that special meeting, also instructed its attorney to say that it joined in the request of the taxpayers that a convention to form a citizens' committee be formed.

The first government employment bureau was established in Paris, France, in 1843.

Mrs. Hutchison Dies Thursday

Mrs. Letha J. Huchison died at 9:35 a. m. Thursday at the Leeth Nursing Home here. She was 64.

Mrs. Huchison had been in ill health for the last six years, and she has been seriously ill for three months.

A native of Jackson County, she moved to Fayette County 45 years ago, and had spent most of her life here. For the last three years, she had been a resident of Washington D. C.

Mrs. Huchison formerly taught in the Fayette County School system. Her husband, Loren, died in 1933.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Geraldine Powell, Washington D. C.; a son, Harold Huchison, Jackson; one grandchild; a sister, Mrs. George O'Briant, Washington C. H.; and a brother, Willard Rutledge, also of this city.

Arrangements, in charge of the Gerstner Funeral Home, are incomplete.

First person to be electrocuted for crime in New York state was William Kemmler in Auburn prison on on Aug. 6, 1890.

Charles Hire Nominated By Symposiarch

Charles S. Hire was nominated for president and John Bath and Louis Baer for vice president of the Washington C. H. chapter of Symposiarch at a business session preceding Wednesday night's dinner meeting.

In line with a standing policy of the chapter, the president, usually elevated from the vice presidency, is nominated without opposition, leaving only the vice president to be elected by ballot. Othe officers and the executive committee are appointed.

The report was made by Frank S. Jackson, chairman of the nominating committee.

Judge Max G. Dice, chapter president, explained that additional nominations could be made either at that meeting (there were none) or at the January meeting, when the election is held.

The remainder of the business session was devoted to a discussion of and planning for the annual Christmas party. It is to be a dinner dance, complete with orchestra, at the Country Club Dec. 28.

THE PROGRAM for the evening was in charge of Alfred Hagler and William Junk, with Hagler as the symposiarch to introduce Junk, the speaker.

Junk, straying from his professional field of law, entered the field of literature with his talk on Samuel Clemens, written under the pen name of Mark Twain, whose stories captured the country and took a lasting place in American literature.

He traced his family's westward trek from Virginia through the Ohio River country to Florida, Mo., where the author was born in 1835.

Mark Train, not only left his mark on literature, but also laid the foundation for a lucrative business for Hannibal, Mo., where his family moved when he was 4 years old, Junk said.

Last year, many years after the death of Mark Twain, 127,000 tourists visited Hannibal, a city of about 20,000 on the banks of the Mississippi River, and the setting for many of his best known stories, such as Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn.

Glass in Cheese Ignored by Court

CLEVELAND (AP)—An appellate court has ruled that just because a person bites a piece of glass in a chunk of cheese, it's not cause for a damage award.

The ruling was made Wednesday by the Ninth District Court of Appeals, sitting here by designation, against Mrs. Gladys Tuttle of Cleveland. Mrs. Tuttle had won a $1,500 verdict in municipal court here against Meyer Dairy Products Co. of Cleveland.

But the appellate court, reversing that decision, said Mrs. Tuttle spit out the glass without suffering any cuts.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haymaker, children Hal Jay and Lana Lou, have moved from their home at the intersection of the New Holland and Devalon Road, to their newly remodeled home on the Devalon Road. Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Sheline and son will occupy the home vacated by the Haymakers.

Miss Joyce Pettit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pettit, of the Jeffersonville Road, has accepted a position on the Nursing staff at Memorial Hospital. Miss Pettit is a graduate of the Mt. Carmel Hospital School of Nursing.

Larry Suttles, a ward of the Fayette County Children's Home, was admitted to Memorial Hospital Wednesday for treatment for an injury to his right shoulder, while playing on the Bloomingburg School grounds, where he is a student. He was later released.

Robert Armintrout, Route 2, Mt. Sterling, was treated and released at Memorial Hospital, Wednesday, after suffering a fractured left wrist, in a fall from a horse, at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Long, 1122 Lakeview Ave., have been called to Waldo, near Marion, by the death of Mrs. Long's father, Daniel Klingel. Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Reformed Church at Waldo under the direction of the Schaffner and Denzer Funeral Home of Marion.

DWI Trial Begins In Municipal Court

The trial of Everett Milstead, 407 Western Ave., on a charge of driving while intoxicated, got under way in Municipal Court here at 9:30 a. m. Thursday before a jury of four women and eight men. Judge Max G. Dice was on the bench.

Most of the morning session was devoted to the selection of the jury, but the first witness for the prosecution, State Highway Patrolman R. R. Sheline, had been examined before court recessed for lunch at about 12:45 p. m.

Milstead was arrested about 2 a. m. May 22 by Patrolman Sheline on Columbus Ave. near the junction of Washington Ave. and charged with driving while intoxicated. He pleaded not guilty.

Milstead is represented by J. Harvey Crowe of Urbana. William Junk, Washington C. H. solicitor, is the prosecutor.

On the jury hearing the case are Joe D. McClure, Kenneth C. Smith, Marjorie Pensyl, Edwin Hidy, Imel Howard, Joyce Ducey, Goldie Parrett, Robert H. Green, Dale Thornton, Hoy O. Simons, Mary Lou Mark and George Stitt.

Seven of the jurors are residents of the city and five of the county.

3 Stores Ban All Magazines

BATAVIA (AP)—Three drugstores have decided to ban all magazines from their stands.

Paul Blocher, owner of a pharmacy here, said Wednesday that Hartman's Pharmacy in nearby Amelia and Colonel's Pharmacy in nearby Withamsville, had joined him in barring magazines.

Blocher said many magazines were not suitable for juvenile reading but that they had to be bought by the stores so other publications would become available.

This contract is to terminate Dec. 31, 1957, or may be terminated by either party on 30-day written notice.

How Far Will Russia Go Beyond Threats?

How far will Russia go in its arrogant attitude toward Western countries?

There are many observers who insist that the Soviet Union will not dare to involve itself too heavily in the Middle East to the extent of risking another World War.

Reports and supposedly expert views on this differ but there are reasons advanced from sound - thinking sources which would seem to indicate that Russia will go only as far as threats.

For all their golobal ambitions, the Kremlin leaders recognize the colossal ruin that would attend an all-out nuclear war between East and West. Furthermore, they must understand that they could not count on the decisive advantage in such a combat.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, retiring as NATO commander, has issued a timely warning on this score.

In his final news conference as commander, Gruenther flatly declared that the Soviet Union and its allies would be destroyed if Moscow should be rash enough to attack the West.

His warning clearly was intended to be read in a broader context than simply the Middle East. Soviet spokesmen recently have been dropping menacing hints about the use of missile warfare against Western Europe. Obviously any such assault would immediaely bring the NATO defense pact into full play.

Coming from Gruenther, this stern answer to Kremlin threats can be read soberly in all the capitals of the world. He is no saberrattler, no brandisher of bombs. He is as thoroughly dedicated to peace as his old chief, President Eisenhower.

This was his and America's way of notifying Moscow that it should not mistake Anglo-French-American differences over Suez as proof that NATO is crumbling. On the vital matter of resisting Russian aggression against Europe, the Big Three are as united today as ever.

Gruenther's words were plain. Manifestly he expects them to be heeded in Moscow. Said the general: "No nation is going to press that button (launching missile warfare) if it means national suicide. That is just what it would mean."

Though Gruenther has been an excellent NATO commander, his retirement cannot fairly be taken as fresh sign of NATO's waning power and prestige. His successor, Gen. Lauris Norstad of the U. S. Air Force, is a very capable officer who should carry on notably in the Eisenhower-Ridgway-Gruenther tradition.

Whether the name be Gruenther or Norstad or whatever, American leadership in NATO is a continuing and deeply meaningful symbol of the West's determination to keep the tide of Russian communism held back from free peoples.

Russia has been put on notice to take a long, hard look at that symbol before it ventures too deeply beyond its borders.

We Almost Speaking Sioux

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—One by one the myths about the old Wild West are being exploded.

It has been shown pretty convincingly, for example, that the ordinary oldtime cowboy, far from being deadly in a gun fight, was usually lucky if he could hit the side of a saloon wall.

Most revolver fights between cowboys shed more ammunition than blood.

But one belief the western fiction fan has stubbornly clung to is that the average Indian was a lousy shot compared to the average U. S. Cavalry trooper.

Alas, it turns out this is a fable, too. It seems that, gun for gun, the noble Redskin of the plains was usually more than a match for his blue-clad soldier foe. And if there had been more Indians with more guns we might all be speaking Sioux today and living in low-cost tepee projects instead of mortgaged homes.

Proof that the Indian was no slouch as a marksman—when he could get a rifle—is given by Stanley Vestal, a University of Oklahoma professor and noted western authority.

He quotes a report to the secretary of war made by Gen. George Crook in 1876:

"I have seen our friendly Indians, riding at full speed, shoot and kill a wolf, also on the run, while it is a rare thing that our troops can hit an Indian no horseback, though the soldier may be on his feet at the time."

Vestal also compiled a box score of 12 major engagements in which a total of 10,356 Indians fought 5,249 whites. The results: Indians, 69 killed, 28 wounded; whites, 383 dead, 102 wounded.

"Other than the astonishingly low number of casualties on either side," Vestal said, the battles "reveal an important trait of the Sioux campaigns.

"The Indians, like Napoleon, fought as a rule only when they had the advantage of numbers. The Sioux killed about five times as many white soldiers as they lost Indians killed, and wounded approximately four times as many whites.

"They did this with hardly half enough guns to go around under the best conditions, and with no cannon at all."

It has often been claimed that the reason a force of 1,000 Indians was able to wipe out 204 Seventh Cavalry troopers in Custer's last stand in the Battle of the Little Big Horn in 1876 was that renegades had supplied them all with repeating rifles.

"A fantastic yarn," said Vestal. "Only about half of Sitting Bull's warriors were able to obtain weapons. Of these, many had old flintlocks, condemned muskets, muzzle-loaders, smooth bores."

Army ordnance reports bear Vestal out. When the Indians later surrendered their weapons, 160 of the 284 long guns they turned in were old - fashioned muzzle-loaders and the rest were generally inferior to rifles carried by the U. S. Cavalry.

The Role of the H-Bomb

By George Sokolsky

At least three wars have occurred since the development of the A and H-bombs in which neither was used. These were the Korean, the Indochina and the Suez wars.

It is also to be noted that these bombs were not used in the Hungarian revolution which is one of the most startling events in history, in the course of which heroic human beings fought tanks with their bare hands. The Russians did not use any unconventional weapons.

The question then arises whether these weapons will ever be employed at all as instruments of war. As modern warfare is different from previous forms, it is altogether possible that the bombs will only be used to establish positions, to mark relative strength, to indicate potentials of destruction.

The fear of atomic warfare is already so effective throughout the world that it is forming and altering public policy and has strengthened principally the weak and backward countries who, although they do not posses any bombs, are able to involve in war those countries which do possess the bombs.

Up to Suez, a balance of power was maintained between the NATO and Warsaw Pact countries. Both possessed the bombs and both were testing and manufacturing bombs. Suez definitely has weakened NATO; it has weakened American leadership. The possession of the H-bomb in huge quantities has not produced an ordered world which is the objective of NATO.

The Hungarian revolution has weakened the Warsaw Pact countries. This was a revolution against communism; but even more, it engendered disorders throughout the Soviet world, establishing that the Kremlin under Khrushchev is unable to maintain the disciplines over eight or nine hundred million people which Stalin was able to maintain.

From that standpoint, the Hungarian revolution was a victory over the H-bomb which Russia dared not use for genocide, employing other effective but less startling means.

If the premise is correct that neither side dares to use the H-bomb, then it becomes an instrument of peace. The fear of the bomb is, of course, radioactive strontium and other calcium affinities which the explosion of the bomb produces and which do not otherwise exist in nature.

The fact is that these radioactive chemicals cannot be controlled. They go into the atmosphere, float about in it, and only fall upon the earth on raindrops in relatively small quantities at a slow rate, which means that it can take many years for the total amount of calcium - consuming radioactive material of one bomb to come down.

But the real danger is that no one can guarantee where the fallout will be. Radioactive strontium and kindred materials, floating in the atmosphere, can fall anywhere, upon the country that manufactured and exploded the bomb as well as upon its enemy or upon neutrals or upon the seas.

Thus far, the explosions for testing have not endangered the human race, and it is possible for scientists to measure the quantity of radioactive strontium, etc., in the atmosphere and know that it is not reduced or increased to a danger point.

But should an H-bomb war occur with enormous and ever-larger bombs exploding in many parts of the world, it is well within the real mof possibility that sufficient radioactive strontium and other calcium-consuming materials would be released to have a deleterious effect upon the entire human race from a pathological as well as genetical standpoint.

It is this fact, not sufficiently discussed, which is a deterrent to the use of the H-bomb and therefore prevents either of the two nations which can use the bomb from doing so.

The A-bomb cost the United States about $2,600,000,000 to produce before the first explosion. Only a government could finance such a venture by taxing its people in time of war. Only the United States could afford such an expenditure.

American efforts were secret and the secrecy was maintained against the entire world, including the American people but excepting the Kremlin which stole the bomb from us. Russian development, however, has since been independent and has kept pace with us fairly well until today, we accept the assumption that the two powers are fairly balanced for destructive purposes.

On the use of atomic energy for peace purposes, the development is different and may be greater in other countries. For instance, Great Britain has moved faster than we have in this respect.

Diet and Health

Appendicitis Still Dangerous To Some

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Although the death rate for simple acute appendicitis is extremely low (only 0.3 per cent), appendicitis still is dangerous for the very young and the very old.

In 1952, the last year for which I have national figures available, the death rate from appendicitis was one-seventh of what it had been in 1900. It was 1.7 per 100,000.

Yet, low as this figure might seem, it reveals that 2,600 persons died of appendicitis that year— an average of about 50 per week.

Specific Remedy

An appendectomy is a relatively simple operation. In the field of medicine, we feel that we have a specific remedy for this disease in surgery. Then why so many deaths?

Again let me cite Census Bureau statistics. They show that 1,500 of those 2,600 deaths occurred in persons over the age of 54. Many of the remainder were children.

High Risk

In both the elderly and the young, appendicitis carries an inordinately high risk because of vagueness of symptoms.

In the aged, onset of the disease usually is insidious. The victim may fail to seek treatment primptly, either because of fear or because he is accustomed to discomfort. Also, his complaints of diarrhea and vague abdominal distress may give the appearance of a chronic illness.

Little Help

Young children, of course, usually can be little if any help to the physician trying to diagnose their ailment. Often it is difficult to differentiate between symptoms of pneumonia and appendicitis in children. And sometimes the two diseases exist at the same time.

There's one aid, though. As Dr. F. F. Boyce so aptly put it, "The child with pneumonia is likely to sleep for long periods, while the child with acute appendicitis does not let himself or let anybody else sleep."

Even though the usual symptoms of appendicitis may not be present in young or aged victims, it's a good idea for you to know those symptoms.

Localized Pain

Generally a pain occurs in the middle of the abdomen. Soon it becomes a dull, severe and continuous pain localized in the lower right part of the abdomen. It's made worse by sneezing or coughing.

Loss of appetitite is fairly common, as is sickness to the stomach. There may be vomiting and a mild fever varying between 99 and 102 degrees.

When in doubt, call the doctor. Never try to diagnose the case yourself.

The Nation Today

By Ed Creagh
For James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money, or the love of it, has been called the root of all evil.

It's also the life blood of a political campaign.

So, for the umpteenth time, Congress is trying to figure out how campaigns can be financed without monetary evil.

This is one of the tougher problems a democracy faces. And if Senate committees looking into the question can come up with an answer, they will deserve a national vote of thanks.

On the one hand you have the question: If I believe in a candidate or his party, why shouldn't I be allowed to contribute anything I can afford to the cause?

And on the other hand: Should anybody be allowed to help "buy" an election? What favors do big contributors expect when they kick in to a campaign fund, and are they going to get them?

President Eisenhower dug into this question at a news conference last February and admitted he didn't know the answer.

A big contribution by a wealthy man "could be a very large one for me or for you," the President said, even though it might be small potatoes for the man making it. The President went on to say there must be constant study of this problem.

This is far from a new problem.

Huge contributions were routine in the past. It's a matter of record that du Pont people chipped in a million dollars to Alfred E. Smith's campaign for President in 1928, even though the family has not been cordial toward the Democrats in late years.

Well, in 1940 Congress decided to act, but it accomplished little so far as doing anything about the situation was concerned.

The 1940 law says no individual may contribute more than $5,000 to a campaign, and no party organization may spend more than three million dollars on a campaign.

This law has proved to be as full of holes as a rusty screen door.

If a rich man wants to endow a candidate, all he has to do is make a flock of $5,000 contributions in the name of as many different persons — his wife, his grandmother and even his infant children.

To get around the three million dollar limit, you just set up separate organizations — Citizens for Blivitz, or Volunteers for Whoosis. Set up as many as you like.

This is why the special committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan of Arkansas and the regular Senate Elections subcommittee of Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee are looking into the matter. One or both may come up with some recommendations for rewriting the law.

How Far Will Russia Go Beyond Threats?

How far will Russia go in its arrogant attitude toward Western countries?

There are many observers who insist that the Soviet Union will not dare to involve itself too heavily in the Middle East to the extent of risking another World War.

Reports and supposedly expert views on this differ but there are reasons advanced from sound - thinking sources which would seem to indicate that Russia will go only as far as threats.

For all their golobal ambitions, the Kremlin leaders recognize the colossal ruin that would attend an all-out nuclear war between East and West. Furthermore, they must understand that they could not count on the decisive advantage in such a combat.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, retiring as NATO commander, has issued a timely warning on this score.

In his final news conference as commander, Gruenther flatly declared that the Soviet Union and its allies would be destroyed if Moscow should be rash enough to attack the West.

His warning clearly was intended to be read in a broader context than simply the Middle East. Soviet spokesmen recently have been dropping menacing hints about the use of missile warfare against Western Europe. Obviously any such assault would immediaely bring the NATO defense pact into full play.

Coming from Gruenther, this stern answer to Kremlin threats can be read soberly in all the capitals of the world. He is no saberrattler, no brandisher of bombs. He is as thoroughly dedicated to peace as his old chief, President Eisenhower.

Whether the name be Gruenther or Norstad or whatever, American leadership in NATO is a continuing and deeply meaningful symbol of the West's determination to keep the tide of Russian communism held back from free peoples.

Russia has been put on notice to take a long, hard look at that symbol before it ventures too deeply beyond its borders.

Appendicitis Still Dangerous To Some

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Although the death rate for simple acute appendicitis is extremely low (only 0.3 per cent), appendicitis still is dangerous for the very young and the very old.

In 1952, the last year for which I have national figures available, the death rate from appendicitis was one-seventh of what it had been in 1900. It was 1.7 per 100,000.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money, or the love of it, has been called the root of all evil.

It's also the life blood of a political campaign.

So, for the umpteenth time, Congress is trying to figure out how campaigns can be financed without monetary evil.

This is one of the tougher problems a democracy faces. And if Senate committees looking into the question can come up with an answer, they will deserve a national vote of thanks.

On the one hand you have the question: If I believe in a candidate or his party, why shouldn't I be allowed to contribute anything I can afford to the cause?

And on the other hand: Should anybody be allowed to help "buy" an election? What favors do big contributors expect when they kick in to a campaign fund, and are they going to get them?

President Eisenhower dug into this question at a news conference last February and admitted he didn't know the answer.

A big contribution by a wealthy man "could be a very large one for me or for you," the President said, even though it might be small potatoes for the man making it. The President went on to say there must be constant study of this problem.

This is far from a new problem.

Huge contributions were routine in the past. It's a matter of record that du Pont people chipped in a million dollars to Alfred E. Smith's campaign for President in 1928, even though the family has not been cordial toward the Democrats in late years.

Well, in 1940 Congress decided to act, but it accomplished little so far as doing anything about the situation was concerned.

The 1940 law says no individual may contribute more than $5,000 to a campaign, and no party organization may spend more than three million dollars on a campaign.

This law has proved to be as full of holes as a rusty screen door.

If a rich man wants to endow a candidate, all he has to do is make a flock of $5,000 contributions in the name of as many different persons — his wife, his grandmother and even his infant children.

To get around the three million dollar limit, you just set up separate organizations — Citizens for Blivitz, or Volunteers for Whoosis. Set up as many as you like.

This is why the special committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan of Arkansas and the regular Senate Elections subcommittee of Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee are looking into the matter. One or both may come up with some recommendations for rewriting the law.

Disabled Child May Be Eligible For Federal Aid

Social Security Law Change Cited By Field Worker

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is the sixth of a series prepared by Leonard S. Garrard, field representative for the Social Security Administration in Fayette County, Garrard's home office is in Columbus.

By LEONARD S. GARRARD

Under the old social security law, benefit payments to a child ended when the child reached age 18. For most children, this provision still holds.

A change in the law, however, now provides for the payment of benefits under certain conditions to a disabled child after age 18 if the child became totally disabled before age 18.

To be eligible for child's benefits after age 18, the child must be unmarried, and be dependent on a parent, step-parent, or adopting parent who is eligible for old - age insurance benefits, or who was insured for the purpose of survivors benefits at the time of his or her death.

The mother of the child is also eligible for monthly benefit payments as long as she continues to have the disabled child in her care.

I SAY "CHILD" because the child's benefit payments under this provision in the amended law are based on a disability which became total before the child's 18th birthday. However, the benefits continue indefinitely into adult years as long as the beneficiary remains totally disabled.

Moreover, it is not necessary that the recipient of disabled child's benefits have any work record at all under a social security in order to get these monthly payments.

In writing the provision for disabled child's benefits into the amended law, Congress gave recognition to a well - known fact. Disabled children are as dependent on their parents after attaining age 18 as before and therefore it was felt that it was important to fill this gap in the federal insurance program by providing benefits for children who would not be able to support themselves.

WE ALL realize the distressing and serious situation faced by people who have the care of a child who because of a mental deficiency never grows up, or who because of a physical impairment requires constant care throughout life. The concern of these parents is the more acute because they are constantly haunted by the spectre of uncertainty— what will happen to the child when the usual family income is cut off by the death or retirement of the family breadwinner.

Parents of children who are now disabled should get in touch with their social security office. The first payments to disabled children 18 or over, whose disability became total before they reached age 18 will be for January 1957.

However, no monthly payments for the child and for the mother with the child in her care will be lost if application for the benefits is made before the end of January 1958, because payments can go back for as many as 12 months before the month in which an application is made.

In my next article, I shall describe provisions in the new law as they affect people who work and live on a farm.

Florida Developer Planning 'City' for Retired Citizens

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — "Old debbil"—Age—overtakes all of us sooner or later. And at long last the problems confronting our senior citizens are becoming the concern of everyone—from the President down to the statistician.

Well, it should, when it is realized that 14 million United States citizens—representing eight per cent of our population—have reached the age of 65 years or over.

As a result of better living and eating habits, life-sustaining antibiotics, "wonder drugs," and super - modern surgical techniques which have increased the average life span by years, it is estimated that this age group will reach 21 million by 1975.

The question now has become, "What do our oldsters want most of all to make their retired years a Shangri - La of peace and contentment?"

The answer, says Gilbert Edwards, a Fort Lauderdale land developer, is security in a relaxed environment which meets their specific requirements.

EDWARDS, following a careful study of the problems confronting our older, but still active citizens, feels they would welcome a carefully planned, self-contained community that is friendly, not overlarge, and located in a healthy, equable climate.

Other necessities visualized by Edwards are comfortable housing facilities entailing a minimum of maintenance; complete recreational facilities, and a close proximity to shopping centers, churches, play areas and transportation.

Edwards, however, feels strongly that these creature comforts and needs should be provided with an eye toward economy. Is there such a place? There certainly is, he says—Fort Lauderdale.

Edwards' organization's contribution to this ideal is the Breakwater Beach development which already is off the architect's planning board and in the hands of the builders.

As conceived by Edwards and his associates, Breakwater Beach will be a self - contained, "walled-in-city," with its 34 acres enclosed by a five-foot-high wall pierced only by main and service entrances.

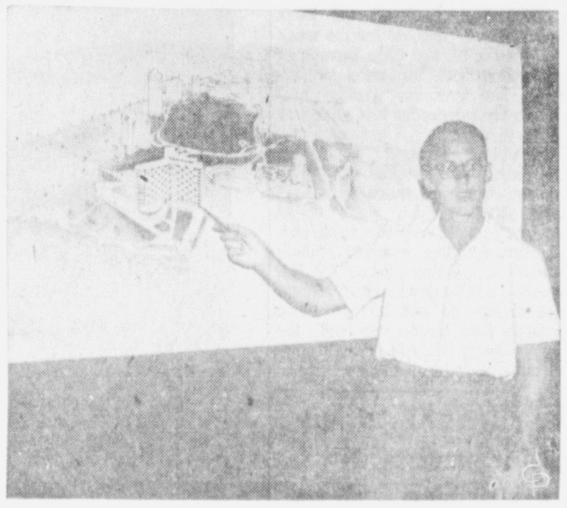
PRIVACY and tranquility will be the keynote. Pleasant, winding roads as aids to slowing down and minimizing traffic will be featured—as will centrally located shopping and recreational areas.



Edwards points to sketch of his "Eden for oldsters."

Another innovation and something fairly new to southern living will be an abundance of cooperative apartments.

The thinking is that "retired" people like to have the security of owning their own homes without the problem of maintenance and housekeeping.

Each apartment house will feature its own swimming pool, lounge and card room.

AS ONLY 9 per cent of the 34 acres comprising Breakwater Beach will have buildings, the remaining 91 per cent will be devoted to an 18-hole pitch and putt golf course, tennis courts, promenades, tropical gardens, luxuriant parks, a band shell, and that Florida "must," beaches and plenty of them.

Present planning also calls for the erection of an 11-story hotel complete with every convention facility as well as a Surf club, a Cabana club, complete with food and bar service, and conveniently located restaurants.

Among the natural advantages offered by Fort Lauderdale as a retirement haven, Edwards lists its sub - tropical, healthful climate which makes outdoor pleasures possible the year 'round, friendly, tranquil atmosphere, beautiful homes, public beaches and 140 miles of navigable waterways.

Florida Developer Planning 'City' for Retired Citizens

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — "Old debbil"—Age—overtakes all of us sooner or later. And at long last the problems confronting our senior citizens are becoming the concern of everyone—from the President down to the statistician.

Well, it should, when it is realized that 14 million United States citizens—representing eight per cent of our population—have reached the age of 65 years or over.

As a result of better living and eating habits, life-sustaining antibiotics, "wonder drugs," and super - modern surgical techniques which have increased the average life span by years, it is estimated that this age group will reach 21 million by 1975.

The question now has become, "What do our oldsters want most of all to make their retired years a Shangri - La of peace and contentment?"

The answer, says Gilbert Edwards, a Fort Lauderdale land developer, is security in a relaxed environment which meets their specific requirements.

EDWARDS, following a careful study of the problems confronting our older, but still active citizens, feels they would welcome a carefully planned, self-contained community that is friendly, not overlarge, and located in a healthy, equable climate.

Other necessities visualized by Edwards are comfortable housing facilities entailing a minimum of maintenance; complete recreational facilities, and a close proximity to shopping centers, churches, play areas and transportation.

Edwards, however, feels strongly that these creature comforts and needs should be provided with an eye toward economy. Is there such a place? There certainly is, he says—Fort Lauderdale.

Edwards' organization's contribution to this ideal is the Breakwater Beach development which already is off the architect's planning board and in the hands of the builders.

As conceived by Edwards and his associates, Breakwater Beach will be a self - contained, "walled-in-city," with its 34 acres enclosed by a five-foot-high wall pierced only by main and service entrances.

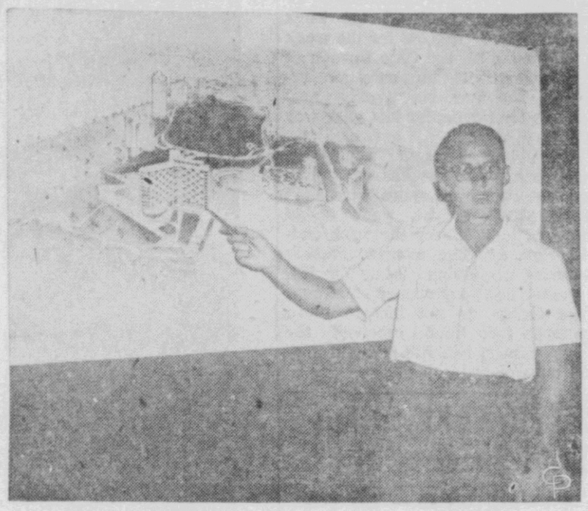
PRIVACY and tranquility will be the keynote. Pleasant, winding roads as aids to slowing down and minimizing traffic will be featured—as will centrally located shopping and recreational areas.



Edwards points to sketch of his "Eden for oldsters."

Another innovation and something fairly new to southern living will be an abundance of cooperative apartments.

The thinking is that "retired" people like to have the security of owning their own homes without the problem of maintenance and housekeeping.

Each apartment house will feature its own swimming pool, lounge and card room.

AS ONLY 9 per cent of the 34 acres comprising Breakwater Beach will have buildings, the remaining 91 per cent will be devoted to an 18-hole pitch and putt golf course, tennis courts, promenades, tropical gardens, luxuriant parks, a band shell, and that Florida "must," beaches and plenty of them.

Present planning also calls for the erection of an 11-story hotel complete with every convention facility as well as a Surf club, a Cabana club, complete with food and bar service, and conveniently located restaurants.

Among the natural advantages offered by Fort Lauderdale as a retirement haven, Edwards lists its sub - tropical, healthful climate which makes outdoor pleasures possible the year 'round, friendly, tranquil atmosphere, beautiful homes, public beaches and 140 miles of navigable waterways.

Mrs. Ralph Minton, president, named a committee composed of Marion Rife, principal; Mrs. Walter Russell, Mrs. Robert Fichthorn and Mrs. Willard Dice to consider several suggestions for the use of the $344 cleared at a PTO carnival in October. Among the projects proposed were a record player, reading circle books, curtains for the kitchen, a portable stage and repairs on the public address system.

Named to arrange the annual Christmas treat were Mrs. Fichthorn, Mrs. Russell and Mrs. John Morgan.

Hiser was named program chairman for February when a men's program will be presented.

Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. Maurice Kelley, Mrs. Foster Kelley, Mrs. Earl Ross, Mrs. Thomas Ankrom and Mrs. Ray Pope.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Blickle cats are popular—and numerous — in these parts.

Over the years, Murphy has blessed the Blickle home and a large area around it with some 90 Blickle kittens. And she shows no sign of slowing down, with four litters in the last 12 months.

The Blickles say they never have much trouble finding homes for Murphy's children.

Mother's Biggest Worry: Criticism from Daughter

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Mothers smarting under the criticism of today's brand of superior offspring may take comfort from the fact that all parents are in the same boat.

For example, one of the world's most famous dress designers gets goose pimples when she tries to decide what to wear for a visit to her college daughter. Adele Simpson of New York, who designs clothes for some of the world's best-dressed women, says its easier to face a roomful of buyers from the country's top stores than to undergo the scrutiny of her 17-year-old daughter, Joan.

"I'm getting a positive inferiority complex," says the small, poised and perfectly accoutred Mrs. Simpson. "Just the other day Joan's father and I were planning to drive up to college and see her over the weekend. I telephoned Joan to tell her our plans, and she asked: 'But, mother, what are you wearing?'

"I told her I hadn't given it much thought, and she replied in obvious distress, 'Oh, mother, do be careful! I worry about you so. Please, mother, don't overdo things!'

"Well, I had planned to wear something simple, like a suit or a wool dress, but after this conversation I was somewhat shaken. Were parents supposed to arrive in blue jeans or slacks and sweaters? I haven't spent so much time selecting a costume in years. In the end I wore a wool jersey tunic dress and a tweed coat. When we arrived, Joan inspected me anxiously, then relaxed and nodded a relieved 'okay'. But when we went indoors and I took off my coat she looked in horror at my tunic dress and gasped: 'But, mother! Your underskirt is showing!'"

It's a real triumph when a mother can win the approval of one of today's highly critical daughters of high school or college age. These poised and confident young people apparently feel that parents need a great deal of compassionate guidance to be able to negotiate the simplest duties of everyday living.

The watermelon is thought to have originated in a wild state in Africa.

It is estimated that 2,200,000,000 cards bearing $60,000,000 worth of postage stamps will be mailed before Christmas Day arrives. (International)

No Dorsey Mystery Seen

Officials Decry Stories Hinting Foul Play

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — Investigators said today there is no question that bandleader Tommy Dorsey died accidentally.

Both Greenwich Police Chief David W. Robbins and Fairfield County Coroner Edgar Krentzman said confusion about notes left in the palatial home where Dorsey was found dead Monday afternoon should not be allowed to lend an aura of mystery to the case.

Dr. C. Stanley Knapp said Dorsey had become ill in his bedroom, had suffered an attack of nausea and had choked to death on food particles which lodged in his throat. He signed a certificate Tuesday attributing death to accidental asphyxiation.

The case took a new turn Tuesday when Chief Robbins said that a note made public Monday by Dorsey's personal manager, Tino Barzie, purportedly written by Dorsey to his wife and couched in affectionate terms, was not authentic and was not written by Dorsey.

The chief said Dorsey had written a note to his wife, but that it was not the one released by Barzie, who said the musician was an habitual note writer and that it was not unusual for him to leave them scattered about the house.

Robbins denied today, however, that he ever had said the authentic note was "important to our case." All he ever said about it, he contended, was that it would be "part of the investigation."

He declined to make its contents public.

In Bridgeport, Krentzman said he had no plans to hold an inquest.

"It appears to me that mystery is being sought where no mystery exists," he said.

The coroner added that "the fact that an incorrect version of the note left by Mr. Dorsey was given to the press by an unauthorized person does not change the factual situation."

CLAIRE McCARDELL'S OPERA RAINCOAT is made of maroon cotton drill cloth and lined with matching velveteen. A cape collar drapes the shoulder above the four-strap and ring closing.

SAFE DRIVERS—Arthur Engle, driver education instructor at Washington High School, helps Susan Dray and Jo Rhoades (at wheel) brush up on their driving know-how. The girls will attend the Youth Traffic Safety Conference in Columbus Friday and Saturday, and Engle will go along as their advisor. Representing Miami Trace School District at the meeting will be Richard Matthews and Sara Sue Davidson, both of Jeffersonville.

U. S., Russian Policies Compared

CINCINNATI (AP)—John D. Millett, Miami University president, believes American business and its universities "work as partners," while in Russia, education is a "tool of public policy."

He told the Cincinnati Club that American business and education "share a mutual devotion to the freedom and dignity of man." In Russia, he said, higher learning "is an instrument to be utilized for the purposes set by the few in the hope of controlling the destiny of the millions."

Colored Bulbs Enhance Homes

COLUMBUS — The new colored bulbs recently introduced to the American public can be used to good advantage in complementing home furnishings and complexions, according to Jane Schoppe, Ohio State University extension home furnishings specialist.

"The 1956 version of the colored bulb for the home is a far cry from the one of 20 years ago," says the specialist. "The earlier colored bulbs were heavily coated and created a pronounced color effect in a room. The amount of color from the new bulbs is very slight and simply heightens or enhances the related colors in a room."

Miss Schoppe points out that the new bulbs are used to highlight or harmonize with the predominating color tones in a room. For example the green - blue or aqua bulb gives a soft light which emphasizes furnishings that are predominately blue or green; pink bulbs flatter pink and red hues.

COLORED BULBS produce about one - third less light than white ones of the same wattage. For this reason, the specialist suggests that homemakers buy 150-watt colored bulbs to replace 100-watt white bulbs. Fixtures in which 60 - watt white bulbs are adequate will need 75-watt colored bulbs.

Miss Schoppe recommends using colored bulbs in ceiling and wall fixtures and in lamps that are used for decorative purposes rather than for reading and other demanding visual tasks.

"Most important of all," she concludes, "Don't neglect the principles of good lighting for color effects."

County Building Ruling Is Made

COLUMBUS (AP)—County commissioners can require builders affected by regulations in unincorporated areas to obtain construction permits from the county building inspector and can require payment for fees for such permits, Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill has ruled.

He also ruled that statute allows a justice of the peace two per cent of amounts paid a debtor to a trustee appointed by the justice. The opinion said the General Assembly did not repeal that statute in enacting laws dealing with the pay of squires.

There are no rivers in Bermuda. Rain supplies drinking water.

Briton Hoping For Better Setup

COLUMBUS (AP)—Admitting that Anglo - American relations were shaken by Britain's intervention in Egypt, the director of British Information Services says his country hopes for a fresh start in relations with the U. S.

John Howard Peck, here to address the English Speaking Union, said the British feel the United States was not adequately concerned about Egypt's threat to world peace. He said Britain and France moved into the Suez Canal area to prevent damage to the canal.

Fayette County Students Have Major Roles In 'Messiah' Presentation at OSU Sunday

Two Fayette County students at Ohio State University will figure prominently in the university's "White Christmas" presentation of Handel's "Messiah" at 3:15 p. m. Sunday in the Men's Gymnasium on the Columbus campus. They are JoAnn Davis, Route 6, Washington C. H., accompanist for the 400-voice university Chorus, which will sing the famous oratorio; and James H. Michael, Route 5, who will be a tenor soloist with the organization.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Davis, JoAnn also serves as an accompanist for the Symphonic Choir and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority; Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary, and Delta Omicron, music honorary. She is a junior in the School of Music.

A senior, Michael is a member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity, the Men's Glee Club and the University Singers as well as the University Chorus. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Michael.

Open to the public without admission charge, the "Messiah" and a "Christmas Choral Festival," to be given at 8:15 p. m. the same day will usher in the 28th annual observance of "White Christmas," co-sponsored by the campus YMCA and YWCA for the benefit of needy children and their families in this area and for other worthy service projects.

Tennesseean Gets Top Education Job

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower yesterday picked Dr. Lawrence Gridley Derthick, now superintendent of schools at Chattanooga, Tenn., to be U. S. Commissioner of Education.

At the same time, the President appointed Jack Z. Anderson, former member of Congress and now an assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, to serve as a White House liaison man with Congress. He will specialize in tending to farm legislation.

In the education post, Derthick, who will be 51 Dec. 23, succeeds Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, brother of Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell. The job has been vacant since Sept. 1, when Samuel Brownell resigned to become superintendent of schools at Detroit.

There are more than four million so - called "excessive" drinkers in the United States.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My parents separated when I was an infant; and my father, being very strict in every respect, seemed more dutiful than affectionate in rearing us. And to this day, he speaks very rudely of my mother. Now we children are grown and married.

As we live in different towns, I never knew my mother until a few years ago—when I looked her up. She had tried many times to see us in the previous years, but my father wouldn't let her come near us.

As I know her now, naturally she has many faults (such as drinking); but so has father; and more so. They married too young and never got along. To this day he doesn't know that I have seen her; and being the hard and unsympathetic person he is, he would be very nasty, or just break off our relationship, if he knew.

If the situation were the reverse, naturally I would look for him too, in spite of what anyone had to say about him. Yet this wouldn't suffice as an explanation where he is concerned.

When we visit my mother, my son always speaks of her afterwards, and on occasions has made some remarks in my father's presence. I've always covered them up, but this can't go on. I know the day will come when he will confront me with questions about my seeing her—and I won't know what to say or do.

I have been told that I shouldn't let it bother me, as I am married and on my own, but I would like to be friends with both of them. He doesn't want us to have anything to do with mother.

D. N.

DEAR D. N.: It is not the actualities of the situation, but the emotional attitudes of the participants, that constitutes this problem. And, as I see the picture, the only cure for your guilty anxiety about the subject under discussion, is to grow up psychologically—in relation to your warped and scowling dad.

As of now, you suffer from marked immaturity of character, in respect to him—a shocked condition of senseless subservience in his presence that is rather to be expected, of course, since he reared you from infancy in a regime of fear, almost entirely unlighted by love or understanding.

Traumatic dread of your dad's disapproval, and, fear of being caught out disobeying his strictness, form the predominant motif of your unconscious feeling pattern.

In my opinion, you have Right on your side, in seeing your mother in a fond exchange, regardless of what her shortcomings are or have been—if such visits are mutually desired—now that you are a woman. The time has come to purge your soul of the hangover sickness of chaotic fear, inculated by your father's loveless brand of rearing.

Then you'll be able to say to him, with strong calm, and unapologetic mildness: "Yes, we've seen mother—a number of times—and we LIKE her," in the event he confronts you with questions.

If he blusters, throws tantrums, breaks off diplomatic relations, etc., well, that's papa. It's part of the pattern of his chronic emotional sickness, the design he lives by. But do you intend to let him browbeat you into staying sick all your life too? Better forfeit his company, than pay that price for it.

Pony Football League Assured

Committee Named To Study Details

There will be pony league football here next year.

That was determined by a group of 45 fans, parents, players, coaches, and Booster Club members at a meeting Wednesday night in the Dayton Power and Light Auditorium.

The meeting, which lasted almost three hours, featured a talk by John W. Milburn, who helped organize pony football in Newcomers town. Milburn also answered questions and showed color movies of his town's pony all-star game.

A COMMITTEE of three, Washington High School Coach Fred Domenico, Emery Lynch and Mac Dews, Jr., was appointed to formulate policy and work out the details of the new program for grade school boys.

The Boosters Club voted to furnish at least $200 to help start the new league.

Coach Domenico expects to have at least six teams ready for next season, and possibly more in years to come.

After the discussion of pony football ended, movies of the Circleville-Washington game were shown, and various plays were discussed.

Campaign Expense Reports Due Dec. 6

All Fayette County candidates as well as committees supporting candidates or who spent money for or against issues voted upon at the general election Nov. 6, are warned by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown that Thursday, Dec. 6 is the deadline for filing statements of receipts and expenditures with the county board of elections.

Brown also calls attention to changes in the Ohio statutes covering the filing of such expenses and receipts which provide that the failure of any candidate to file a statement shall disqualify him from being a candidate for a period of five years. In the case of successful candidates, certificates of election are not issued until such statements are filed.

"The time limit was extended from 10 to 30 days and the amount of expenditures on which receipts must be filed was increased from $10 to $25 by the Ohio Legislature when it added the additional penalty provisions at its last session."

Four panes of glass were broken from a door and windows at Don Bowen's commercial printing on the alley at the rear of his home, 319 N. Fayette St.

There was no indication of a burglary attempt, or even a breakin, in either of the reports.

City School Audit

supervision of grounds, buildings and maintenance. The total salary of Mr. Rost is $5,300 per year plus $600 travel and car expense. . . .It appears that the additional duties performed by the clerk are incompatible with his position as clerk. Offices are considered incompatible when one is subordinate to, or in any way a check upon the other."

(Board members pointed out that multiple assignments of this kind prevail in many other school districts and the arrangement here is modeled on "general practice." A recent survey, it was stated, showed similar situations in approximately 60 other districts.)

TWO ITEMS described as "irregularities" are cited by the examiners after an audit of bills and vouchers.

One concerns a payment of $135 to Rost on Sept. 30, 1955, as reimbursement for a desk and a desk lamp. "The clerk," the report says, "explained that he purchased these items when he was employed by the board several years ago and that the board felt he should be reimbursed for these purchases and approved payment on above date."

The full amount was refunded by the clerk to the board on Nov. 19, (Rost said that he made the refund "so as to stay within the letter of the law," even though the board had approved the payment).

THE OTHER ITEM concerns two payments totaling $91.15, representing insurance premiums on coverage of athletic equipment, uniforms and an electric score - board on which, the examiner maintains, the board did not have an insureable interest. The report further notes that "the clerk states these payments were made in error due to improper billing" in the home office of the insurance agency and that refund of the premium was received from the agent and deposited to properly adjust the error before the close of the examination.

In connection with the payroll account, the examiners state:

"Exception is taken to clerk withholding fees from teachers' pay and payment of same. . . .in the amount of $1,355 made payable to City Teachers Assn." However, it is further noted that the clerk made these deductions in conformance with regular board action since a number of teachers had requested that dues in various teacher organizations be deducted. This, the board points out, is a custom prevailing in many school districts throughout the state.

The report points out that the minutes of the June 13, 1956 board meeting show that Superintendent W. A. Smith was employed at that time on three - year contract (through July 31, 1959) at a salary of $8,500 per year. The salary is to be increased to $8,750 effective Aug. 1, 1957, and increased to $9,000 effective Aug. 1, 1958. Smith receives $600 annually for the use of his personal car within the city.

City board members are Robert Terhune, president; Elmer N. Reed vice president; Milbourne Flee, William A. Lovell and Charles F. Pensyl.

THESE SIX northern Democratic senators have proclaimed a "minimum program of liberal Democratic action" which likely will produce an intra-party fight in the next Congress. Their 16-point "manifesto," signed, calls for change in the cloture, or "gag," rule to permit a majority to close debate. Southern senators are certain to challenge this, since unlimited debate permits filibustering. The manifesto also calls for a strong civil rights program, immigration liberalization, education aid, and delves into the area of farm policy, taxes, housing, among others. (International)

Yanks Eating Own Weight In Meat Now

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Americans, on the average, now eat their weight or more in beef, pork, lamb and veal each year, General Manager Carl F. Neumann of the National Live Stock and Meat Board said Monday.

Addressing the livestock conference at the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's 38th annual convention here, Neumann said meat consumption in the United States has reached a record high of 162 to 163 lbs per person.

Within nine years, he predicted, the average will jump to 168 lbs per person.

Describing the national board, Neumann said its job is to supply information not only on the nutritive value of meat, but also on how to buy, care for, store, cook, serve and plan menus around meat.

The board, located in Chicago, is composed of livestock growers and feeders, meat packers, retailers, restaurateurs and marketing agencies, he said.

Discussion of the farmer's responsibility in meat promotion, was conducted by a panel composed of F. G. Ketner, Producers Livestock Assn., Columbus; J. R. Kimber, Cincinnati Livestock Producers; L. E. Kunkle, Ohio State University professor of animal science, and A. B. Evans, livestock farmer from Cedarville, Greene County.

Presley 'Foe' Claims $200 Payoff Offered for 'Fight'

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The young man who went to jail for taking a swing at Elvis Presley here on Thanksgiving has claimed he was promised $200 to fake the fight.

Louis Balint says that a "sharp character" he took to be a Presley employee made the deal with him in a Toledo bar.

Balint said he was told to "think up some good story" which would make "good publicity."

When he marched up to Presley in the swank Shalimar Room of the Commodore Perry Hotel that evening, Balint told the rock'n roll idol to come up swinging.

"I'm going to beat hell out of you because my wife carries your picture instead of mine in her purse," Balint was quoted as telling Presley before he swung at him.

Of that, Balint laughed when he added:

"I hope my wife sees the humor of that. She can't stand Elvis Presley."

After the swing-fest in the hotel bar, during which nobody was hurt, Balint was hauled off to city jail and charged with creating a disturbance.

The next morning he was sent to the Toledo Workhouse when he couldn't pay a $10 fine and $9.60 in court costs.

"That really hurt," Balint said, because this guy who had fixed the deal also said he would bail me out of jail."

He stayed in the workhouse until Saturday afternoon when a money order arrived from his father, who had read of the Toledo affair in the Los Angeles newspapers.

Balint is a 22-year-old unemployed sheetmetal worker who came here from Detroit about 10 days ago. His wife and two children are in Los Angeles.

He also said that he agreed to fake the fight with Presley so he could take the $200 and go home to Los Angeles.

"But so far," he added, "I haven't seen a penny."

Presley was unavailable for comment at his home in Memphis, Tenn. But an aide there denied any employe of the rock 'n' roll idol had approached Balint before the fight.

"Instead of cooking up stunts like that, we do everything we can to avoid them," the aide, Bitsy Mott, said. "Something like that just gives somebody else the idea, and the next town you hit some fellow will maybe say, 'well, the other guy didn't do it, but maybe I can.'"

New York Social School To Close

NEW YORK (AP) — The 12-year-old Jefferson School of Social Science, branded by a federal board as a Communist training ground, will close next month.

Trustees said the school was forced to fold because of "unwarranted persecution by the federal government" and resultant financial losses.

The trustees said enrollment fell from a peak of 14,000 in 1946-47 to 400 at present.

Last year the Subversive Activities Control Board ordered the school to register as a Communist front.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

There is a good reason why Judge John P. Case has a painting of a trim airplane hanging on the walls of his office in the Court House.

It is a painting of a Taylorcraft, an attractive 40-horsepower plane which he formerly owned and piloted for more than two years. At that time, he thought nothing of hopping from Columbus, where the plane was housed at the TWA hangars, to Cleveland, Akron, Dayton, or other points in Ohio wherever his business took him.

He took flying lessons as early as 1935, purchased the plane in 1938, and sold it after using it for more than two years, his use of it being not only for business but for pleasure trips, because he has always loved traveling by air.

The "NC20523," (as noted under one wing), had an enclosed cabin and was one of the neatest, trimest jobs of its day. It even had brakes on the landing wheels, and operated by a steering wheel instead of a "stick."

When Judge Case entered military service in April 1941, he was immediately assigned to the Air Corps, but not as a pilot, for he was over 27 years of age, limit for pilots at that time.

However, he was given a job in the counter-intelligence service of the Air Corps, and did notable work in that capacity until he retired with the rank of major in 1946. Later he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the Air Corps Reserve.

MACEDONIA CHURCH

Among the early churches in Fayette County was one organized by the Methodists called the "Macedonia Church." It was located in Concord Township, probably near Staunton.

Mrs. Mary Jo Hackett, of the Carnegie Public Library, is still compiling a church history, which she started several years ago, and has been at a loss for definite information regarding the "Macedonia Church," which undoubtedly was a Methodist even though it bore the unusual name of Macedonia.

Anyone having information regarding the church is asked to get in touch with Mrs. Hackett.

PICTURE OF LINCOLN

Hanging on the walls of the Public Library here is a 24-by-36 inch picture of Abraham Lincoln which never fails to attract attention.

It is noted on the frame that the Ladies of the GAR presented the picture to the Library.

The picture is of a bronze statue of Lincoln, said to be the best statue of the famous president ever made, and is located in Lincoln Park, Chicago. I have seen it more than once and always admired it as an outstanding piece of sculpture.

WELL CUTS CAPERS

A well that last July suddenly turned from clear water (without objectionable taste) to black sulphur water over night and continued to supply sulphur water until this week, is owned by Mrs. Marguerite Hodge, Palmer Rd.

It is a drilled well, 90 feet in depth, and when the water suddenly turned to pronounced sulphur, it was little short of startling.

Just as Mrs. Hodge was becoming accustomed to drinking the water and scouring the black sulphur deposit from the sink and utensils she noticed this week that there was no longer any deposit of sulphur and the water had lost its chemical taste.

About the only explanation I can think of is that a pool of sulphur water drained into the well, and when the pool was exhausted, the clear water returned.

Anyway Mrs. Hodge is now wondering when the well will again develop sulphur water.

FINDS OLD "WAX ENDS"

While Frank Green, of Green Rd. in the extreme northern part of Fayette County, was preparing to move to Bloomingburg and was packing household effects, he found in the basement of his home some old "wax ends" or shoemakers thread made of hemp, waxed, with bristles in the ends, such as the old time boot and shoemakers and the harness makers used in making hand made footwear and harness a half century and more ago.

In addition to the waxed thread with the bristles in the ends which really took the place of needles and made putting the thread through the awl holes in the leather a very easy matter), he found a ball of the old hemp thread, which had not been waxed, and also a ball of the wax.

He said the wax was black, but I know it was beeswax which originally was a dull yellow, for that is the kind of wax the leather workers used to preserve thread against exposure to weather and also to cause it to pass through the heavy leather with greater ease.

Incidentally Frank has lived 72 years in the home he and Mrs. Green are soon to leave for their new home at Midland and Cross Sts. in Bloomingburg.

I have known him ever since he was a boy, and also knew his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Green, whom I also held in high esteem.

But to resume about the finds he made:

Frequently in sewing shoes, boots and harness, two strands of the waxed thread with the bristles in the ends were used, and the speed with which the old time leather workers did their sewing with the "wax ends" was surprising.

Not only were "wax ends" used by the shoe, boot and harness makers, but by the handy individuals who frequently found it necessary to repair harness, boots and shoes, and other leather goods at home. Some of these folks were almost as proficient in the use of wax ends as the shoemakers and harness makers.

I have not seen wax ends since I was a boy, except in one museum, where I suppose they are inspected by a great many people who are at a loss to know for what they were used.

County Bond Sales $47,691 in October

Nationwide, October sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds were 390 million dollars, making a 10-month total for 1956 of approximately 4½ billion dollars, according to R. H. Olinger, chairman of the Fayette County Savings Bonds Committee.

In Ohio, the October sales of these two series of bonds amounted to $25¼ million for a decrease of nearly 20 per cent over the record-breaking month of October 1955.

While sales were down, the amount of bonds outstanding throughout the nation reached a new high of $41,226,000. "Another bright spot in the sales picture," stated the county chairman, "is that 65 per cent of all matured Series E Bonds are being held into the automatic 10 - year extension period."

Sales in Fayette County of the E and H Bonds totaled $47,691.

If Over 40, It's Tough To Get Job

CINCINNATI (AP)—It's tough to get a job in Cincinnati if you're over 40.

That's the report to City Council by Prof. T. J. Hailstones, head of the Full Employment Commission who said that more than half the city's 5,000 jobless are 40 or over.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

There is a good reason why Judge John P. Case has a painting of a trim airplane hanging on the walls of his office in the Court House.

It is a painting of a Taylorcraft, an attractive 40-horsepower plane which he formerly owned and piloted for more than two years. At that time, he thought nothing of hopping from Columbus, where the plane was housed at the TWA hangars, to Cleveland, Akron, Dayton, or other points in Ohio wherever his business took him.

He took flying lessons as early as 1935, purchased the plane in 1938, and sold it after using it for more than two years, his use of it being not only for business but for pleasure trips, because he has always loved traveling by air.

The "NC20523," (as noted under one wing), had an enclosed cabin and was one of the neatest, trimest jobs of its day. It even had brakes on the landing wheels, and operated by a steering wheel instead of a "stick."

When Judge Case entered military service in April 1941, he was immediately assigned to the Air Corps, but not as a pilot, for he was over 27 years of age, limit for pilots at that time.

However, he was given a job in the counter-intelligence service of the Air Corps, and did notable work in that capacity until he retired with the rank of major in 1946. Later he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the Air Corps Reserve.

MACEDONIA CHURCH

Among the early churches in Fayette County was one organized by the Methodists called the "Macedonia Church." It was located in Concord Township, probably near Staunton.

Mrs. Mary Jo Hackett, of the Carnegie Public Library, is still compiling a church history, which she started several years ago, and has been at a loss for definite information regarding the "Macedonia Church," which undoubtedly was a Methodist even though it bore the unusual name of Macedonia.

Anyone having information regarding the church is asked to get in touch with Mrs. Hackett.

PICTURE OF LINCOLN

Hanging on the walls of the Public Library here is a 24-by-36 inch picture of Abraham Lincoln which never fails to attract attention.

It is noted on the frame that the Ladies of the GAR presented the picture to the Library.

The picture is of a bronze statue of Lincoln, said to be the best statue of the famous president ever made, and is located in Lincoln Park, Chicago. I have seen it more than once and always admired it as an outstanding piece of sculpture.

WELL CUTS CAPERS

A well that last July suddenly turned from clear water (without objectionable taste) to black sulphur water over night and continued to supply sulphur water until this week, is owned by Mrs. Marguerite Hodge, Palmer Rd.

It is a drilled well, 90 feet in depth, and when the water suddenly turned to pronounced sulphur, it was little short of startling.

Just as Mrs. Hodge was becoming accustomed to drinking the water and scouring the black sulphur deposit from the sink and utensils she noticed this week that there was no longer any deposit of sulphur and the water had lost its chemical taste.

About the only explanation I can think of is that a pool of sulphur water drained into the well, and when the pool was exhausted, the clear water returned.

Anyway Mrs. Hodge is now wondering when the well will again develop sulphur water.

FINDS OLD "WAX ENDS"

While Frank Green, of Green Rd. in the extreme northern part of Fayette County, was preparing to move to Bloomingburg and was packing household effects, he found in the basement of his home some old "wax ends" or shoemakers thread made of hemp, waxed, with bristles in the ends, such as the old time boot and shoemakers and the harness makers used in making hand made footwear and harness a half century and more ago.

In addition to the waxed thread with the bristles in the ends which really took the place of needles and made putting the thread through the awl holes in the leather a very easy matter), he found a ball of the old hemp thread, which had not been waxed, and also a ball of the wax.

He said the wax was black, but I know it was beeswax which originally was a dull yellow, for that is the kind of wax the leather workers used to preserve thread against exposure to weather and also to cause it to pass through the heavy leather with greater ease.

Incidentally Frank has lived 72 years in the home he and Mrs. Green are soon to leave for their new home at Midland and Cross Sts. in Bloomingburg.

I have known him ever since he was a boy, and also knew his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Green, whom I also held in high esteem.

Ohio Democrats Planning Now for 1957-58 Elections

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Far from being discouraged, Ohio's organization Democrats are looking forward to elections next year and in 1958.

"We are going to start getting ready for municipal and township elections in 1957 and the state elections in 1958," said State Chairman William L. Coleman of Marysville.

Coleman was handpicked by Michael V. DiSalle as chairman of the Democratic campaign this year. But the foundation of a solid state organization were laid and the building will continue, Coleman said.

DiSalle was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor Nov. 6.

State central and executive committees, county chairmen and party candidates will meet here Tuesday to pick up the pieces and lay out strategy for new campaigns.

Finances will be a major problem. The party ended this year's campaign in debt, as usual. But Coleman said the $19,000 debt included about $8,000 carried over from 1954.

Despite his unsuccessful campaign for governor, DiSalle emerged as the driving force behind the party organization build-up.

When nominated last May, DiSalle found a virtually non-existent state organization. Campaign funds were lacking and many counties didn't have active Democratic units.

DiSalle and Coleman hurriedly whipped county and state organizations into shape and waged intensive campaigns. As a result most of the new workers owe their loyalty to DiSalle.

The former Toledo mayor expressed willingness to hand over the reins to some other leader but Democrats expressed doubt he would step aside in the face of financial difficulties. And once the party gets out of the red, there would be little reason for him to quit politics.

Most county chairmen like DiSalle's leadership. That contrasts with earlier action by northern Ohio county chairmen who operated independently of state headquarters maintained during Gov. Frank J. Lausche's benefit at the expense of other candidates.

With Lausche going to Washington in January for a six-year term as U.S. senator, workers in the revitalized Democratic organization say the outlook will be brighter with DiSalle.

There's an added incentive to build for the 1958 elections. Candidates for statewide administrative posts, from the governor on down, will be running for four-year terms.

With one exception, this year marked the last election for two-year terms. The exception was state auditor, a four-year term for a long period. But in 1960, candidates for auditor will run for a two-year term while those elected to other statehouse offices in 1958 still have two more years to serve.

In 1960, all will run for four-year terms. Elections for those offices will be held quadrennially thereafter. The offices are governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor and attorney general.

Elections for those posts thus will fall between presidential elections every four years.

New Minimum Wages Slated For Dec. 5

COLUMBUS (AP)—New minimum wages for women and minors working in Ohio's food and lodging industries go into effect Dec. 5.

The minimums were adopted after a public hearing by a newly-created wage board Nov. 19, when testimony on the board's recommendations was heard.

The director, Miss Margaret A. Mahoney, conferred with James M. Murphy, superintendent of the minimum wage division, before issuing an order approving the board's recommendations. There was little opposition expressed at the public hearing.

Under the order, the basic work week is 48 hours. Service employes, who customarily receive tips, must be paid a minimum of 55 cents an hour. Non-service employes must be paid 70 cents an hour.

The rates are higher for part-time employes, who work 30 hours per week or less. Parttime service employes must be paid 60 cents an hour and non-service employes 75 cents an hour.

The wage order covers all restaurants including those operated by boards of education and other governmental subdivisions, hotels, motels, apartment houses, tourist homes, boarding houses, rooming houses, hospitals, sanitariums, rest homes and clubs.

It covers soda fountains that serve food but not soda fountains that do not serve food.

Factory Housekeeping Costs Show Rise as Profits Shrink

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Housekeeping costs more these days in the nation's factories and mills and stores. And so does the replacing of outworn plants and outdated machinery or the building and outfitting of new shops and shopping centers.

The squeeze is on. Shrinking profit margins show it. Most companies have to sell more today than they did a year ago if they want to make as high a profit, and sometimes profits slip even though sales totals rise.

When firms want to grow by adding new plants and machinery or to keep up with competitors who may sport newer and more efficient equipment, they find out how much more it costs than when they started up. That's what all the hue and cry over depreciation allowances is about.

The new firm seeking to take root finds itself at a handicap because the older competitor may be using buildings and facilities that cost much less to build or to install.

Yet the demands of a growing population indicates that new firms, both big and small, must be added in the next few years.

Plant maintenance costs are shooting up. The publication Factory Management and Maintenance predicts a continuing rise the rest of the year. In a survey of maintenance, labor and material costs, the magazine says that in September there were particularly sharp increases in prices for some fabricated metal products.

The cost of maintaining buildings and facilities is 6.2 per cent higher today than the average cost in 1955 and the cost of maintaining equipments rose 8.3 per cent.

Factory Housekeeping Costs Show Rise as Profits Shrink

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Housekeeping costs more these days in the nation's factories and mills and stores. And so does the replacing of outworn plants and outdated machinery or the building and outfitting of new shops and shopping centers.

The squeeze is on. Shrinking profit margins show it. Most companies have to sell more today than they did a year ago if they want to make as high a profit, and sometimes profits slip even though sales totals rise.

When firms want to grow by adding new plants and machinery or to keep up with competitors who may sport newer and more efficient equipment, they find out how much more it costs than when they started up. That's what all the hue and cry over depreciation allowances is about.

The new firm seeking to take root finds itself at a handicap because the older competitor may be using buildings and facilities that cost much less to build or to install.

Yet the demands of a growing population indicates that new firms, both big and small, must be added in the next few years.

Plant maintenance costs are shooting up. The publication Factory Management and Maintenance predicts a continuing rise the rest of the year. In a survey of maintenance, labor and material costs, the magazine says that in September there were particularly sharp increases in prices for some fabricated metal products.

The cost of maintaining buildings and facilities is 6.2 per cent higher today than the average cost in 1955 and the cost of maintaining equipments rose 8.3 per cent.

Global Race for Air Supremacy Means You're Not Safe Anywhere

By GROVER BRINKMAN

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—As of today, the United States Air Force's ballistic missile test range extends 1,500 miles. Tomorrow it will be 5,000 miles—from this U. S. Air Force base to Ascension Island in the lonely Atlantic, between the bulge of Brazil and Africa.

This means, in layman's language, that a guided missile can be dropped "on target" despite very great distances. Five thousand miles, for instance.

It is 4,662 miles via Great Circle route from New York City to Moscow. Berlin is but 3,961 miles away. No matter where you live today, there is no safety from airpower. Rather a devastating thought!

Strange as it may sound, there is no such thing as a "modern" airplane today. As soon as production starts on a new model plane, it is already "obsolete" to the engineers who designed it. They already have a better one coming to life on a drawing board.

As the U. S. Air Force today tests turbojet planes at speeds approaching 2,000 miles an hour, aerodynamic engineers are planning ramjet engines which will send planes zooming through the heavens at more than 3,000 miles per hour.

AS AIR FORCE officials test jet bombers in terms of thousands of miles without refueling, engineers talk of bombers and huge transports in terms of weeks—or even months—of non-stop flight. These would be powered by nuclear energy.

Doubtful? The United States submarine, Nautilus, plows on and under the water endlessly without refueling, because of atomic power. Why not the airplane of the future?

Already in production for major world airlines are the Boeing 707 and the Douglas DC-8 — giant jet transports to be in commercial use within three years. By 1959 passengers will fly on commercial airlines from Los Angeles to New York in four hours; from New York to Paris in less than seven. On the drawing boards today are bombers to cross the continent in 105 minutes!

As faster and faster planes are built, one of the major problems is overcoming terrific heat. Says one engineer, "They're asking us to build a refrigerated frying pan."

SO FAST is air power forging ahead it is hard to remember that Charles A. Lindberg flew the Atlantic in 1927 in 33½ hours. That's a far cry from today's speed.

In 1929, Jimmy Doolittle made aviation's first blind flight, at Mitchel Field, New York. With a hood over his cockpit, he took off, flew 15 minutes, and landed safely, all on instruments. Thus was born all-weather flying.

The first helicopter got off the ground in 1908; the first homemade aerial bomb was dropped by an Army lieutenant at San Francisco in 1911. Sperry Gyroscope built a guided missile back in 1916 - 1918.

The crazy dreams and risky stunts of the gypsy flyers and the small, unheralded band of Army and Navy airmen built the foundation for today's air age.

TODAY, one Air Force B-52, capable of delivering a bomb load anywhere in the world—and returning—can carry more explosive energy than was fired off by all the guns and bombs of World War II.

Expert opinion today rates the B-52 better than any comparable competitive plane now in operation by a foreign power. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, USAF chief of staff, said after his recent trip to Russia, that the Soviet "Bison"—counterpart of the B-52—isn't "quite as good as predicted."

Gen. Twining makes the following comparison between the present Soviet air power and that of the U. S. Air Force: Soviets will continue to have more operational "Bisons" than the United States has B-52s for several years. However, if the USAF achieves its goal of 500 B-52s in 1958, comparative Bison and B-52 strength will be about a standoff.

The Soviet "Badger" is comparable to our B-47, of which we plane is really a later airplane and probably has a little edge on the B-47, except for range.

The Soviet "Bear," a long-range bomber, has quite an edge over our B-36. And they have more of them than we do!

RUSSIA'S transonic bomber, the "Blow Torch," according to Lt. Gen. C. S. Irvine, "looks better than anything we have in our inventory in the light bomber category. However, I am sure our B-58 will be much better." (The B-58, which literally will travel faster than a bullet—will be our first supersonic bomber.)

Gen. Irvine says that our supersonic F-104 is better than anything in the fighter category seen in Russia.

Gen. Twining concludes, "I believe we are ahead of USSR in air power today. But they are moving on a broad front . . . if we continue our air program as planned, we will not lose our lead."

And the dreams go on. Wellwood E. Beall, Boeing executive, says "The next 40 years will see an old saying disproved. Some things that go up will not come down—at least not down to this earth. Pilotless aircraft are here, satellites are just around the corner, and I am convinced that we could land a rocket on the moon within 10 years, if we choose."

Coed ROTC Plan Being Readied

COLUMBUS (AP) — The U. S. Army's recruiting office here has announced a plan which compares to ROTC training for college men, but is designed for women.

Women in their junior year in accredited colleges or universities may join the WAC Reserve and apply for four weeks' active duty training in the summer between their junior and senior years.

During their senior year, they apply for appointment as a WAC officer and are commissioned second lieutenants upon graduation.

MARY CARROLL, 15, is shown at the Somerville, Mass., police station as a warrant was issued for her mother, Mrs. Lillian Pino, known as "Slave Girl Moolah," champion woman wrestler of the world. The parent is charged with "neglect of a minor child." Mary said she had been "lured" by her mother into more than 300 professional mat exhibits since she was 13 and had once performed while recovering from an operation. (International)

Elegance of Greek Queen Eurydice Survives Ravages of 31 Centuries

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON

CINCINNATI, Ohio—Never underestimate the indelible imprint of the feminine touch that a woman leaves on her intimate surroundings, particularly her boudoir, says Dr. Carl W. Blegen, head of the University of Cincinnati's expedition which recently returned from the palace site near Pylos, Greece.

Dr. Blegen, head of the university's classics department and noted archaeologist, tells of uncovering after 31 centuries the spacious apartments of Eurydice, wife of the fabled King Nestor, in one of the ancient world's most luxurious households.

So unmistakable was the feminine influence left after all those years that Greek laborers sensed it at once when they uncovered her rooms, and rushed to Dr. Blegen and his staff, shouting, "Nestorina! Nestorina!", meaning "Mrs. Nestor."

Eurydice and her ladies had their quarters in the eastern corner of Nestor's palace, which covered the entire top of a hill commanding a majestic view of the Ionian sea. Included was a 20-foot-square reception hall with a central circular hearth, a corridor, a boudoir, and what Dr. Blegen supposes to be "a powder room."

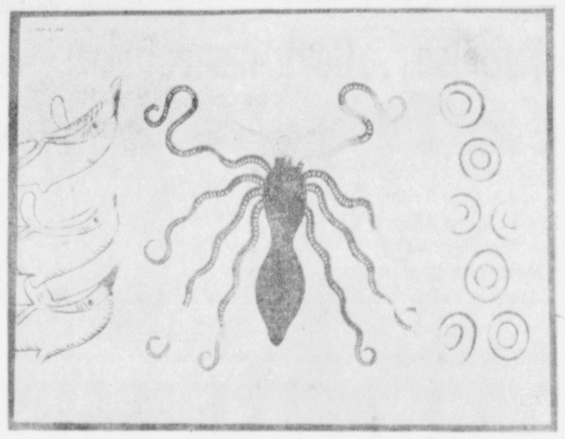
ONE OF THE MOST prized discoveries yet was the set of 8,000 dishes and crockery used by Eurydice as hostess to many royal gatherings. It is the first complete set of dishes and cooking utensils yet found in a palace of this Heroic Age, according to Dr. Blegen, although two other royal residences from about 1200 B. C. have been uncovered at Tiryns and Mycennae.

Eurydice could set her tables with dishes, cups and saucers, and an assortment of plates in 30 to 40 different shapes. The meals obviously were elaborate and with many courses.

Another unique feature of Eurydice's part of the palace was evidence of chimneys to carry off smoke from the hearths. This counterpart of air-conditioning today was found originally in 1952 in the royal throne room itself, but now it is apparent that nothng was too good for the queen and the setup was duplicated in her reception room.



Favorite design of Queen Eurydice was the octopus. She had pictures of them everywhere. This one was found worked into the floor of her majesty's boudoir.

Five summers have been spent in the excavations, and the university's scientists are not yet finished. Dr. Blegen explains that nearly all of the palace proper has been uncovered, and it is apparent that wise and strong Nestor of Homerian fame lived in a magnificent building of 100 rooms.

Eurydice had to manage the housekeeping of 46 separate halls, apartments, chambers, passages, stairways and courts which already have been excavated and which presumably were duplicated in an upper story.

About 1200 B. C., two generations after Nestor and Eurydice, a great fire swept the palace, but neither it nor the ravages of time could obliterate the one-time wealth and elegance.

QUEEN EURYDICE'S reception room walls were covered with frescoes, now broken and fallen to the floor. Her boudoir, also covered with fredoes, wtill retains part off its painted floor, laid out in seven rows of seven rectangular panels. The octopus was the favorite design.

There even are evidences of modern-type plumbing. Another small room, badly damaged by the fire, has evidence of a lavatory or possibly a toilet, since water was carried off through an underground drain.

Together with the discovery a year ago of a terra cotta bathtub in Nestor's rooms, these "modern facilities" seem all the more remarkable considering that it was approximately the same time that Moses was leading the children of Israel out of Egypt.

Dishwashing must have been a real problem in the palace, for eight pantries have been found stacked with various types of dishes and crockery and four large storerooms with jars for oil and wine.

THE DISCOVERY in one room alone of 2,853 broken drinking cups almost like champagne glasses in shape, and counted by their stems, suggests to Dr. Blegen one approach to the problem.

Simply and cheaply made, the cups probably were considered expendable, and it probably was the custom in the palace on ceremonial occasions to drain the cup and then shatter it by hurling it on the floor.

Dr. Blegen and his staff expect before they are finished to have a fairly complete picture of the way the mansion with 100 rooms was run, but that may take some time.

They still are at work cataloguing the thousands of findings of seven annual University of Cincinnati expeditions 18 years ago to the site of Troy which results in a new chronology of events there and some new slants on Helen of Troy.

Big Ten Basketball Season Due To Get Start Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven Big Ten basketball teams will swing into pre-conference action Saturday night and a glance into the future reveals one of the most wide-open races in history.

Only one thing is certain at present and that is Iowa's defending champions will have a tough time repeating.

Not that there is any outstanding team to contend with but the Hawkeyes lost their entire starting lineup and their two top substitutes. Coach Bucky O'Conner says "We have a good sized team but lack speed. We have some good reserves and as their experience mounts they will become major factors in our play."

Illinois, runnerup to Iowa, looks like the top team in the Big Ten at present despite the loss of Bill Ridley and Paul Judson. The Illini still have George RonSalle, the No 3 scorer in the conference last season and the return of Bill Altenberger, Harv Schmidt, Don Ohl and Hiles Stout. Illinois' problem will be depth.

The team that could make the biggest gains this season is Northwestern. The Wildcats won only one conference game last season and that was an upset victory over Illinois after Iowa had clinched the title. Northwestern will have its entire team back including Dick Mast and Glen Lose.

Minnesota could take it all. The Gophers have Jed Dommeyer, Dave Tucker and George Kline back plus guards Buck Lindsley and George Hanson. All are over six feet but Minnesota will lack a real big man if sophemore Warren Jeppeson, 6-7½, or Dave Griffin, 6-8, fail to pan out. If either makes the grade, watch the Gophers.

Ondiana could turn into a real power. The Hoosiers finished sixth but lost only Wally Choice from what was an unpredictable and always dangerous team. Branch McCracken has eight lettermen returning including center Archie Dees.

Purdue has Lamar lundy, Frank Cummings and little Joe Campbell back plus one of their finest groups of sophomores in years. The Boilermakers tied Ohio State for third last season but will miss the scoring punch of Joe Sexson and Dan Thornburg.

Ohio State lost the Big Ten's top scorer — All America Robin Freeman. Also gone are Chuck Ellis, and center Don Kelley. However, the Buckeyes could field two of the best forwards in the conference in Frank Howard and Jim Laughlin.

Michigan State will be driving for another first-division berth and could be pressing the leaders. The Spartans will be without Julius McCoy but they have more height, depth and can field a starting lineup made up of lettermen.

Michigan can't help but better its 4-10 conference record of last season but again will be lacking a "big man." Also the Wolves will have to wait for grid star Ron Kramer to hit his basketball form. The Wolves will have more height and six returning lettermen.

Wisconsin expects more height, more scoring and a stronger defense. The Badgers are green but could have a standout in 6-7 Ray Gross if he can get off the floor. Bob Litzow could become Wisconsin's top scorer.

Saturday night's opening games find Delaware at Michigan, Iowa State at Michigan State, Vanderbilt at Minnesota, Western Michigan at Northwestern, Butler at Ohio State, Purdue at Evansville and South Dakota at Wisconsin. Iowa opens Dec. 3 at Nebraska, Valparaiso is at Indiana Dec. 4, and Butler is at Illinois, Dec. 5.

Hungarian Church Aiding Refugees

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The First Hungarian Reformed Church has gone all out in an effort to provide relief for Hungarian refugees streaming into Camp Kilmer, N. J.

Each of 100 families in the church is offering to take care of one refugee family until the newcomers can make homes for themselves.

The pastor, the Rev. Laszlo Harangi, left Tuesday for Camp Kilmer where he is seeking permission to bring the refugees to Pittsburgh.

The hours between 2 and 4 p. m. on Saturdays are the most dangerous period for accidents on farms, a recent Pennsylvania survey shows. Teenage boys are most likely to have accidents in their hasty efforts to finish in time for Saturday night dates.

High Court Eyes Parking Fee Case

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court heard arguments, then took under study, the question of whether the city of Cincinnati can legally use increased parking meter fees to provide off-street parking.

The question was raised in a suit brought by Frank T. Garrett, a taxpayer who seeks to block the city's entry into the off-street parking business.

His attorney, James G. Andrews, termed increased parking meter rates as a "revenue plan" and said that the increased fees are not reasonable, and actually constitute a tax rather than a fee for traffic regulation.

Elegance of Greek Queen Eurydice Survives Ravages of 31 Centuries

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON

CINCINNATI, Ohio—Never underestimate the indelible imprint of the feminine touch that a woman leaves on her intimate surroundings, particularly her boudoir, says Dr. Carl W. Blegen, head of the University of Cincinnati's expedition which recently returned from the palace site near Pylos, Greece.

Dr. Blegen, head of the university's classics department and noted archaeologist, tells of uncovering after 31 centuries the spacious apartments of Eurydice, wife of the fabled King Nestor, in one of the ancient world's most luxurious households.

C. have been uncovered at Tiryns and Mycennae.

Eurydice could set her tables with dishes, cups and saucers, and an assortment of plates in 30 to 40 different shapes. The meals obviously were elaborate and with many courses.

Another unique feature of Eurydice's part of the palace was evidence of chimneys to carry off smoke from the hearths. This counterpart of air-conditioning today was found originally in 1952 in the royal throne room itself, but now it is apparent that nothng was too good for the queen and the setup was duplicated in her reception room.

Five summers have been spent in the excavations, and the university's scientists are not yet finished. Dr. Blegen explains that nearly all of the palace proper has been uncovered, and it is apparent that wise and strong Nestor of Homerian fame lived in a magnificent building of 100 rooms.

Eurydice had to manage the hous keeping of 46 separate halls, apartments, chambers, passages, stairways and courts which already have been excavated and which presumably were duplicated in an upper story.

About 1200 B. C., two generations after Nestor and Eurydice, a great fire swept the palace, but neither it nor the ravages of time could obliterate the one-time wealth and elegance.

QUEEN EURYDICE'S reception room walls were covered with frecoes, now broken and fallen to the floor. Her boudoir, also covered with fredoes, wtill retains part off its painted floor, laid out in seven rows of seven rectangular panels. The octopus was the favorite design.

There even are evidences of modern-type plumbing. Another small room, badly damaged by the fire, has evidence of a lavatory or possibly a toilet, since water was carried off through an underground drain.

Together with the discovery a year ago of a terra cotta bathtub in Nestor's rooms, these "modern facilities" seem all the more remarkable considering that it was approximately the same time that Moses was leading the children of Israel out of Egypt.

Dishwashing must have been a real problem in the palace, for eight pantries have been found stacked with various types of dishes and crockery and four large storerooms with jars for oil and wine.

THE DISCOVERY in one room alone of 2,853 broken drinking cups almost like champagne glasses in shape, and counted by their stems, suggests to Dr. Blegen one approach to the problem.

Simply and cheaply made, the cups probably were considered expendable, and it probably was the custom in the palace on ceremonial occasions to drain the cup and then shatter it by hurling it on the floor.

Dr. Blegen and his staff expect before they are finished to have a fairly complete picture of the way the mansion with 100 rooms was run, but that may take some time.

They still are at work cataloguing the thousands of findings of seven annual University of Cincinnati expeditions 18 years ago to the site of Troy which results in a new chronology of events there and some new slants on Helen of Troy.

Big Ten Basketball Season Due To Get Start Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven Big Ten basketball teams will swing into pre-conference action Saturday night and a glance into the future reveals one of the most wide-open races in history.

Only one thing is certain at present and that is Iowa's defending champions will have a tough time repeating.

Not that there is any outstanding team to contend with but the Hawkeyes lost their entire starting lineup and their two top substitutes. Coach Bucky O'Conner says "We have a good sized team but lack speed. We have some good reserves and as their experience mounts they will become major factors in our play."

Illinois, runnerup to Iowa, looks like the top team in the Big Ten at present despite the loss of Bill Ridley and Paul Judson. The Illini still have George RonSalle, the No 3 scorer in the conference last season and the return of Bill Altenberger, Harv Schmidt, Don Ohl and Hiles Stout. Illinois' problem will be depth.

The team that could make the biggest gains this season is Northwestern. The Wildcats won only one conference game last season and that was an upset victory over Illinois after Iowa had clinched the title. Northwestern will have its entire team back including Dick Mast and Glen Lose.

Minnesota could take it all. The Gophers have Jed Dommeyer, Dave Tucker and George Kline back plus guards Buck Lindsley and George Hanson. All are over six feet but Minnesota will lack a real big man if sophomore Warren Jeppeson, 6-7½, or Dave Griffin, 6-8, fail to pan out. If either makes the grade, watch the Gophers.

Ondiana could turn into a real power. The Hoosiers finished sixth but lost only Wally Choice from what was an unpredictable and always dangerous team. Branch McCracken has eight lettermen returning including center Archie Dees.

Purdue has Lamar lundy, Frank Cummings and little Joe Campbell back plus one of their finest groups of sophomores in years. The Boilermakers tied Ohio State for third last season but will miss the scoring punch of Joe Sexson and Dan Thornburg.

Ohio State lost the Big Ten's top scorer — All America Robin Freeman. Also gone are Chuck Ellis, and center Don Kelley. However, the Buckeyes could field two of the best forwards in the conference in Frank Howard and Jim Laughlin.

Michigan State will be driving for another first-division berth and could be pressing the leaders. The Spartans will be without Julius McCoy but they have more height, depth and can field a starting lineup made up of lettermen.

Michigan can't help but better its 4-10 conference record of last season but again will be lacking a "big man." Also the Wolves will have to wait for grid star Ron Kramer to hit his basketball form. The Wolves will have more height and six returning lettermen.

Wisconsin expects more height, more scoring and a stronger defense. The Badgers are green but could have a standout in 6-7 Ray Gross if he can get off the floor. Bob Litzow could become Wisconsin's top scorer.

Saturday night's opening games find Delaware at Michigan, Iowa State at Michigan State, Vanderbilt at Minnesota, Western Michigan at Northwestern, Butler at Ohio State, Purdue at Evansville and South Dakota at Wisconsin. Iowa opens Dec. 3 at Nebraska, Valparaiso is at Indiana Dec. 4, and Butler is at Illinois, Dec. 5.

Hungarian Church Aiding Refugees

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The First Hungarian Reformed Church has gone all out in an effort to provide relief for Hungarian refugees streaming into Camp Kilmer, N. J.

Each of 100 families in the church is offering to take care of one refugee family until the newcomers can make homes for themselves.

The pastor, the Rev. Laszlo Harangi, left Tuesday for Camp Kilmer where he is seeking permission to bring the refugees to Pittsburgh.

The hours between 2 and 4 p. m. on Saturdays are the most dangerous period for accidents on farms, a recent Pennsylvania survey shows. Teenage boys are most likely to have accidents in their hasty efforts to finish in time for Saturday night dates.

High Court Eyes Parking Fee Case

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court heard arguments, then took under study, the question of whether the city of Cincinnati can legally use increased parking meter fees to provide off-street parking.

The question was raised in a suit brought by Frank T. Garrett, a taxpayer who seeks to block the city's entry into the off-street parking business.

His attorney, James G. Andrews, termed increased parking meter rates as a "revenue plan" and said that the increased fees are not reasonable, and actually constitute a tax rather than a fee for traffic regulation.

19th Olympic Victory Chalked By Americans

Yank Basketball Team Swamps Russian Cagers By 30-Point Margin

MELBOURNE (AP) — America's Olympians stuffed their 19th victory into an already bulging bag of gold, set up another in the demanding decathlon and gave Russia a 30-point whipping in basketball today. But they surrendered the spotlight to the first full-fledged rhubarb of the 1956 games.

The 3,000 meter steeplechase, which usually manages to produce a surprise, came through in king-sized fashion when rank outsider Cris Brasher of England won, lost, then won again after hitting the tape a full 15 yards clear in a record smashing performance.

The Olympic jury of honor finally awarded Brasher the gold medal after he had first been announced the winner, then disqualified for interference in favor of Hungary's Sandor Rozsnyoi.

A squabble over the result raged long after Villanova's Charlie Jenkins had rushed home first in the 400-meter run, versatile Milt Campbell and Rafer Johnson had begun opening up a big lead in the decathlon and basketball All-America Bill Russell and Co., had smothered Russia, 85-55.

With the day's finals over, the U.S. led Russia 318 to 219½ in the unofficial team totals.

Brasher's victory, and his spectacular clocking of 8 minutes, 41.2 seconds — more than four seconds under the Olympic mark set by Horace Ashenfelter in his victory for the United States in 1952 — was announced to an almost empty stadium three hours after the race was over.

Rozsnyoi, so close to revolt-smashed Hungary's first gold medal of the games, was second. The only U.S. entry, Charles Jones of Boystown, Neb., was a well beaten ninth. Ashenfelter failed to qualify in Tuesday's trials.

Jenkins, whose home is in Cambridge, Mass. and who has done his best running indoors, ignored a bitter, cold wind to win the 400 by a stride from Germany's Karl Haas while world record holder Lou Jones of the United States was a disappointing fifth. Jenkins' time was :46.7, eight-tenths off the games' record.

It was the 12th gold medal scored by Uncle Sam's track and field squad and the cast for another was forged as Campbell, a former Indiana track and football star from Plainfield, N. J., and Johnson, a UCLA student from Kingsburg, Calif., pulled well ahead of the field in the first day of the decathlon competition.

With four of the day's five events completed, Campbell led with 3,642 points and Johnson was next with 3,475. Pole vault champion Bob Richards of La Verne, Calif., the third U. S. decathlon entry, was well down the list and waiting for his specialty Friday to move up.

Campbell, runnerup to Bob Mathias in the 1952 decathlon when he was a 17-year-old schoolboy, was brilliant — winning the 100 meter dash in 10.8, the shot put with 48 feet, 5 inches, and the high jump with 6-2. Johnson, who holds the world record in the 10-event test of all-around track and field ability, won the broad jump with a leap of 24 feet, one inch, was second in the high jump, tied for second in the sprint, and took third in the shot put.

The long-awaited U.S.-Russian basketball meeting was close for only a half, at which time the Americans held only a 39-32 advantage. The fabulous Russell, used sparingly in the first half, took charge after the intermission and sparked the U. S. into a 29-7 burst in seven minutes that annihilated the Soviet threat.

Bud Jeangerard, former Colorado ace, chipped in with 14 points as the U. S. cagers swept unbeaten into the four-team final round beginning Friday. Russia also advanced, despite the loss. So did Uruguay.

Meanwhile, U.S. swimmers, who will hold the main U.S. interest when the track and field portion of the games end Saturday, got off to a big start at the big glass-enclosed pool.

Reid Patterson, an ex-Georgia student from Pineville, Ky., smashed the existing Olympic record in winning a trial heat in the men's 100 meter freestyle in :56.8. Dick Hanley of Evanston, Ill., and Michigan, and Bill Woolsey, a Hawaiian student at Indiana, also qualified for further trials.

Canton To Honor Grid Champions

CANTON (AP)—Coach Wade Watts and his state champion high school football squad, the Bulldogs of Canton McKinley, will be honored tonight at a banquet by the Bulldog Booster Club.

More than 600 persons will attend the fete. Benny Oosterbaan, head football coach at Michigan, will handle the main speaking chores. The guest list includes Gov.-elect C. William O'Neill and Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

This season at the top of the high school football heap was the second straight for the Bulldogs who have won 20 in a row.

Quality of Patterson's Chin May Tell Result of Big Bout

CHICAGO (AP) —If Floyd Patterson can take a punch, Archie Moore may be in trouble Friday night when the world's heavyweight boxing title goes up for grabs at Chicago Stadium.

Patterson, considered a 21-year-old phenom, can be hit, and has been. Only once, however, has he been floored. That was by Jacques Royer-Crecy on July 12, 1954, Floyd's 15th bout as a pro.

Most of the other guys who have hit Patterson were feather dusters compared to the power-packed Moore, who in 20 years of sledging has won 131 fights out of 156 and scored 90 knockouts.

In being steered through 31 matches against a wide assortment of opponents by the crafty "pick-the-spot" handling of Cus D'Amato, Patterson has lost only once while growing up to heavyweight proportions. That was a disputed eight round decision to Joey Maxim before he took on Royer-Crecy.

Most experts feel that Moore will get a chance to test Floyd's chin early in the scheduled 15 rounder, which is being home televised at 10 p. m. EST.

"If Moore hits Patterson early and the kid survives, then Moore is in trouble," one observer said. "Patterson then will come on, and his speed and lightning - fast punches will have Moore in hot water.

"But if Moore hits Patterson and hurts him, then he can call his own shots. I think Moore will try to hurt him early."

Patterson figures to enter the ring weighing 182-183 pounds.

Moore plans to come in at about 185. The official weigh-in will be at Chicago Stadium at noon Friday.

The light heavyweight king, who automatically will yield that title if he succeeds in his second crack at the heavyweight crown, rules a 7-5 favorite.

Both Moore and Patterson get 30 per cent of the gate and the same slice of a $200,000 TV-radio melon.

It will be the first heavyweight title fight scored on the new five-point per round maximum system.

Buckeye Cagers Stage Preview

COLUMBUS (AP)—Fans got their first look at the 1956-57 Ohio State basketball team Wednesday night in a varsity-freshman squad game that saw the first stringers win, 77-54.

Frank Howard, standing 6-6, led the varsity with 26 points. He monopolized rebounds off both backboards, getting 17-point support from forward running-mate Ken Sidle.

The varsity will find tougher competition Saturday night when the Bucks officially open competition in new St. John Arena against Butler University of Indianapolis.

Big Newk Given Second High Honor

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Newcombe was all set today to argue his case for a sizeable salary increase with the Cy Young Memorial Award added to his National League's Most Valuable Player prize.

The huge Brooklyn righthander, who was to hold a salary confab with Dodger vice - president E. J. Bavasi this afternoon, was honored for the second time in a week Wednesday when he became the first winner of the annual award given to the outstanding pitcher of both major leagues.

The latest accolade is awarded in the memory of Denton (Cy) Young, the immortal hall of fame pitcher who won an incredible total of 511 major league games.

On Nov. 20 Newcombe was voted his league's MVP award, becoming the first pitcher to gain this honor since Jim Konstanty of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1950.

Newcombe received 10 of the 16 votes from a special committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, consisting of representatives of each of the 16 big league clubs.

Sal Maglie, Don's pitching mate with the Dodgers, was runnerup, just as he was in the MVP voting, with four votes. One vote each was given to southpaws Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves and Ed Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees.

Farrell Gets Manager Post At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — His face wreathed in a constant grin, Kerby Farrell emerged in public Wednesday night as the new manager of the Cleveland Indians.

So far as could be learned from him or Cleveland, Farrell took the job with no definite understanding on either the length of his contract or his salary.

"All I wanted was the chance to manage a big league team, and this was it," said the 43-year-old native of Tennessee who poloted the Indianapolis Indians to baseball's Little World Series championship last fall. "I can't tell you how happy I am to get it."

General Manager Hank Greenberg's response to questions about Farrell's contract was indirect:

"The length of the contract's not the important thing. We wanted Kerby. We think he's the man. We're glad to have him."

A common guess is that Farrell will get around $25,000 in his first year as the 16th manager in the history of the Indians.

Farrell was the first self - declared candidate when Al Lopez quit after six seasons. Lopez was hired to manage the White Sox.

Since Greenberg said several weeks ago that Leo Durocher would not take over the Indians, the name of Farrell has been about the only one mentioned.

Spieser Collects KO over German

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Detroit's Chuck Spieser, the No. 1 challenger among the light heavyweights, knocked out Willi Hoepner of Hamburg, Germany in the second round of their scheduled 10 rounder in the Milwaukee Arena Wednesday night.

The end came quickly for the left handed swinging German once the rugged Spieser went to work. A right to the chin sprawled Hoepner for an eight count just after the second round got underway. The pair mixed it up in a brief flurry after Hoepner regained his feet, but then Spieser slashed him with hard and fast lefts and rights to put him down for the full count.

Former athletes at Maryland, Wake Forest and William and Mary are assistants to football coach Jim Tatum at North Carolina.

Final Data On Big Ten Grid Given

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State, Michigan and Ohio State donate final Big Ten football offense statistics.

Ohio State, sharing fourth place with MSU in the closing standings, averaged 260.3 yards rushing per conference game for top spot while Michigan State was second with 230. The Spartans were No. 1 in total yards with a 325.5 average and Michigan next with 322.3.

Last-place Indiana headed the aerial yardage with an average of 128.7. Purdue was second with 124.1.

Minnesota, sharing runnerup spot with Michigan, registered the most plays per game, 68. Michigan was a shade behind with 67.9. However, Michigan State gained the most yards per play, 5.2 and Michigan was next with 4.7.

Defensively, Purdue held opponents to a total gain of 215.4 per game and Iowa yielded 244.2. Iowa's champions presented the toughest defense against rushing with an average yield of 145.2. Ohio State was second with 164.8.

The Hawkeyes, with their first clear cut title since 1921 and Rose Bowl tickets in their pockets, ranked only sixth in offense and fourth in defense, according to Big Ten figures. But Iowa allowed its foes only 2.9 yards per running play, lowest yield in the conference.

Cincinnati Frosh Star Shines Bright

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati's varsity basketball team beat the freshmen Wednesday night, 87-83, but one freshman, Oscar Robertson, lived up to all of his advance billing.

Robertson, who broke a flock of records as Indianapolis Crispus Attucks won two straight Indiana high school championships, came to UC with a hot reputation.

In the regulation varsity-freshman game that drew 3,847 fans, he scored 37 points on 15 field goals and 7 free throws.

Bill Dede, now scouting for the Brooklyn Dodgers, was the Brooklyn bat boy in 1916.

CONSTIPATED?

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAID, the amazing new lavative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Indiana Looking For New Grid Pilot

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Indiana University today began looking for a new football coach.

Bernie Crimmins, who left the backfield coaching job at Notre Dame to try to revive I. U. football, resigned Wednesday after five losing seasons.

The red-haired Louisville Irishman, who shifted from backfield to guard on Notre Dame's undefeated 1941 team, said that five years of being outgunned and outlucked at Indiana was enough. During that span he won 13 games and lost 32.

19th Olympic Victory Chalked By Americans

Yank Basketball Team Swamps Russian Cagers By 30-Point Margin

MELBOURNE (AP) — America's Olympians stuffed their 19th victory into an already bulging bag of gold, set up another in the demanding decathlon and gave Russia a 30-point whipping in basketball today. But they surrendered the spotlight to the first full-fledged rhubarb of the 1956 games.

The 3,000 meter steeplechase, which usually manages to produce a surprise, came through in king-sized fashion when rank outsider Cris Brasher of England won, lost, then won again after hitting the tape a full 15 yards clear in a record smashing performance.

The Olympic jury of honor finally awarded Brasher the gold medal after he had first been announced the winner, then disqualified for interference in favor of Hungary's Sandor Rozsnyoi.

A squabble over the result raged long after Villanova's Charlie Jenkins had rushed home first in the 400-meter run, versatile Milt Campbell and Rafer Johnson had begun opening up a big lead in the decathlon and basketball All-America Bill Russell and Co., had smothered Russia, 85-55.

With the day's finals over, the U.S. led Russia 318 to 219½ in the unofficial team totals.

Brasher's victory, and his spectacular clocking of 8 minutes, 41.2 seconds — more than four seconds under the Olympic mark set by Horace Ashenfelter in his victory for the United States in 1952 — was announced to an almost empty stadium three hours after the race was over.

Rozsnyoi, so close to revolt-smashed Hungary's first gold medal of the games, was second. The only U.S. entry, Charles Jones of Boystown, Neb., was a well beaten ninth. Ashenfelter failed to qualify in Tuesday's trials.

Jenkins, whose home is in Cambridge, Mass. and who has done his best running indoors, ignored a bitter, cold wind to win the 400 by a stride from Germany's Karl Haas while world record holder Lou Jones of the United States was a disappointing fifth. Jenkins' time was :46.7, eight-tenths off the games' record.

It was the 12th gold medal scored by Uncle Sam's track and field squad and the cast for another was forged as Campbell, a former Indiana track and football star from Plainfield, N. J., and Johnson, a UCLA student from Kingsburg, Calif., pulled well ahead of the field in the first day of the decathlon competition.

With four of the day's five events completed, Campbell led with 3,642 points and Johnson was next with 3,475. Pole vault champion Bob Richards of La Verne, Calif., the third U. S. decathlon entry, was well down the list and waiting for his specialty Friday to move up.

Campbell, runnerup to Bob Mathias in the 1952 decathlon when he was a 17-year-old schoolboy, was brilliant — winning the 100 meter dash in 10.8, the shot put with 48 feet, 5 inches, and the high jump with 6-2. Johnson, who holds the world record in the 10-event test of all - around track and field ability, won the broad jump with a leap of 24 feet, one inch, was second in the high jump, tied for second in the sprint, and took third in the shot put.

The long - awaited U.S.-Russian basketball meeting was close for only a half, at which time the Americans held only a 39-32 advantage. The fabulous Russell, used sparingly in the first half, took charge after the intermission and sparked the U. S. into a 29-7 burst in seven minutes that annihilated the Soviet threat.

Bud Jeangerard, former Colorado ace, chipped in with 14 points as the U. S. cagers swept unbeaten into the four-team final round beginning Friday. Russia also advanced, despite the loss. So did Uruguay.

Meanwhile, U.S. swimmers, who will hold the main U.S. interest when the track and field portion of the games end Saturday, got off to a big start at the big glass-enclosed pool.

Reid Patterson, an ex-Georgia student from Pineville, Ky., smashed the existing Olympic record in winning a trial heat in the men's 100 meter freestyle in :56.8. Dick Hanley of Evanston, Ill., and Michigan, and Bill Woolsey, a Hawaiian student at Indiana, also qualified for further trials.

Canton To Honor Grid Champions

CANTON (AP)—Coach Wade Watts and his state champion high school football squad, the Bulldogs of Canton McKinley, will be honored tonight at a banquet by the Bulldog Booster Club.

More than 600 persons will attend the fete. Benny Oosterbaan, head football coach at Michigan, will handle the main speaking chores. The guest list includes Gov.-elect C. William O'Neill and Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

This season at the top of the high school football heap was the second straight for the Bulldogs who have won 20 in a row.

Quality of Patterson's Chin May Tell Result of Big Bout

CHICAGO (AP) —If Floyd Patterson can take a punch, Archie Moore may be in trouble Friday night when the world's heavyweight boxing title goes up for grabs at Chicago Stadium.

Patterson, considered a 21-year-old phenom, can be hit, and has been. Only once, however, has he been floored. That was by Jacques Royer-Crecy on July 12, 1954, Floyd's 15th bout as a pro.

Most of the other guys who have hit Patterson were feather dusters compared to the power-packed Moore, who in 20 years of sledging has won 131 fights out of 156 and scored 90 knockouts.

In being steered through 31 matches against a wide assortment of opponents by the crafty "pick-the-spot" handling of Cus D'Amato, Patterson has lost only once while growing up to heavyweight proportions. That was a disputed eight round decision to Joey Maxim before he took on Royer-Crecy.

Most experts feel that Moore will get a chance to test Floyd's chin early in the scheduled 15 rounder, which is being home televised at 10 p. m. EST.

"If Moore hits Patterson early and the kid survives, then Moore is in trouble," one observer said. "Patterson then will come on, and his speed and lightning - fast punches will have Moore in hot water.

"But if Moore hits Patterson and hurts him, then he can call his own shots. I think Moore will try to hurt him early."

Patterson figures to enter the ring weighing 182-183 pounds.

Moore plans to come in at about 185. The official weigh-in will be at Chicago Stadium at noon Friday.

The light heavyweight king, who automatically will yield that title if he succeeds in his second crack at the heavyweight crown, rules a 7-5 favorite.

Both Moore and Patterson get 30 per cent of the gate and the same slice of a $200,000 TV-radio melon.

It will be the first heavyweight title fight scored on the new five-point per round maximum system.

Buckeye Cagers Stage Preview

COLUMBUS (AP)—Fans got their first look at the 1956-57 Ohio State basketball team Wednesday night in a varsity-freshman squad game that saw the first stringers win, 77-54.

Frank Howard, standing 6-6, led the varsity with 26 points. He monopolized rebounds off both backboards, getting 17-point support from forward running-mate Ken Sidle.

The varsity will find tougher competition Saturday night when the Bucks officially open competition in new St. John Arena against Butler University of Indianapolis.

Big Newk Given Second High Honor

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Newcombe was all set today to argue his case for a sizeable salary increase with the Cy Young Memorial Award added to his National League's Most Valuable Player prize.

The huge Brooklyn righthander, who was to hold a salary confab with Dodger vice - president E. J. Bavasi this afternoon, was honored for the second time in a week Wednesday when he became the first winner of the annual award given to the outstanding pitcher of both major leagues.

The latest accolade is awarded in the memory of Denton (Cy) Young, the immortal hall of fame pitcher who won an incredible total of 511 major league games.

On Nov. 20 Newcombe was voted his league's MVP award, becoming the first pitcher to gain this honor since Jim Konstanty of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1950.

Newcombe received 10 of the 16 votes from a special committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, consisting of representatives of each of the 16 big league clubs.

Sal Maglie, Don's pitching mate with the Dodgers, was runnerup, just as he was in the MVP voting, with four votes. One vote each was given to southpaws Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves and Ed Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees.

Farrell Gets Manager Post At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — His face wreathed in a constant grin, Kerby Farrell emerged in public Wednesday night as the new manager of the Cleveland Indians.

So far as could be learned from him or Cleveland, Farrell took the job with no definite understanding on either the length of his contract or his salary.

"All I wanted was the chance to manage a big league team, and this was it," said the 43-year-old native of Tennessee who poloted the Indianapolis Indians to baseball's Little World Series championship last fall. "I can't tell you how happy I am to get it."

General Manager Hank Greenberg's response to questions about Farrell's contract was indirect:

"The length of the contract's not the important thing. We wanted Kerby. We think he's the man. We're glad to have him."

A common guess is that Farrell will get around $25,000 in his first year as the 16th manager in the history of the Indians.

Farrell was the first self - declared candidate when Al Lopez quit after six seasons. Lopez was hired to manage the White Sox.

Since Greenberg said several weeks ago that Leo Durocher would not take over the Indians, the name of Farrell has been about the only one mentioned.

Spieser Collects KO over German

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Detroit's Chuck Spieser, the No. 1 challenger among the light heavyweights, knocked out Willi Hoepner of Hamburg, Germany in the second round of their scheduled 10 rounder in the Milwaukee Arena Wednesday night.

The end came quickly for the left handed swinging German once the rugged Spieser went to work. A right to the chin sprawled Hoepner for an eight count just after the second round got underway. The pair mixed it up in a brief flurry after Hoepner regained his feet, but then Spieser slashed him with hard and fast lefts and rights to put him down for the full count.

Former athletes at Maryland, Wake Forest and William and Mary are assistants to football coach Jim Tatum at North Carolina.

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State, Michigan and Ohio State donate final Big Ten football offense statistics.

Ohio State, sharing fourth place with MSU in the closing standings, averaged 260.3 yards rushing per conference game for top spot while Michigan State was second with 230. The Spartans were No. 1 in total yards with a 325.5 average and Michigan next with 322.3.

Last-place Indiana headed the aerial yardage with an average of 128.7. Purdue was second with 124.1.

Minnesota, sharing runnerup spot with Michigan, registered the most plays per game, 68. Michigan was a shade behind with 67.9. However, Michigan State gained the most yards per play, 5.2 and Michigan was next with 4.7.

Defensively, Purdue held opponents to a total gain of 215.4 per game and Iowa yielded 244.2. Iowa's champions presented the toughest defense against rushing with an average yield of 145.2. Ohio State was second with 164.8.

The Hawkeyes, with their first clear cut title since 1921 and Rose Bowl tickets in their pockets, ranked only sixth in offense and fourth in defense, according to Big Ten figures. But Iowa allowed its foes only 2.9 yards per running play, lowest yield in the conference.

Cincinnati Frosh Star Shines Bright

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati's varsity basketball team beat the freshmen Wednesday night, 87-83, but one freshman, Oscar Robertson, lived up to all of his advance billing.

Robertson, who broke a flock of records as Indianapolis Crispus Attucks won two straight Indiana high school championships, came to UC with a hot reputation.

In the regulation varsity-freshman game that drew 3,847 fans, he scored 37 points on 15 field goals and 7 free throws.

Bill Dede, now scouting for the Brooklyn Dodgers, was the Brooklyn bat boy in 1916.

Indiana Looking For New Grid Pilot

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Indiana University today began looking for a new football coach.

Bernie Crimmins, who left the backfield coaching job at Notre Dame to try to revive I. U. football, resigned Wednesday after five losing seasons.

The red-haired Louisville Irishman, who shifted from backfield to guard on Notre Dame's undefeated 1941 team, said that five years of being outgunned and outlucked at Indiana was enough. During that span he won 13 games and lost 32.

CONSTIPATED?
new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAID, the amazing new lavative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

MEDICAL STUDENTS in Havana, Cuba, get a drenching (upper) from police during demonstration as they tried to put a flower piece on a monument to 10 medical students executed by the Spanish governor in 1871. He Just Couldn't Find Right Speed

DETROIT (AP)—Harry Moore of Smith Creek got two traffic tickets within 20 minutes, one for going too slow, the other for going too fast.

Police said Moore was stopped the first time for driving at only 25 miles an hour in the left hand lane of an expressway. After being ticketed, Moore drove away at a high speed. The arresting officer ticketed him a second time for doing 70 miles an hour. He was fined $35 for the two offenses.

ELZBIETA KRZESINSKA, of Poland, who broke the broad jump Olympic record by four inches, is congratulated (top) in Melbourne, Australia, by Miss Willie White, of Tennessee State University. Miss White took second honors. Miss Krzesinska made a leap of 20 feet, 9¾ inches. At bottom, flashing a victory smile after winning a gold medal, is Adhamar Ferreira Da Silva, of Brazil, who set a new Olympic record for the hop-skip-and-jump event. He set a mark of 53 feet, 7½ inches in the competition. (International Radiophotos)

THE NEW big diplomatic worry in the Middle East is Syria (1), ruled by a pro-Soviet triumvirate which includes the Communist party secretary general. The president and advisers have been reduced to rubber stamp status. Under pressure in the new situation is Iraq (2), which has asked the U. S. for anti-aircraft and other weapons in fear of a Syria-Soviet pinch. Already Iraq's oil pipeline to the Mediterranean outlet in Lebanon (3) has been cut, reducing Iraq's income some $700,000 a day. Syria's signs of satelliteness also discomfit Turkey, which lies in the shadow of the Soviet border (4). Jordan (5) has announced intention of quitting the 1948 treaty of aid from Britain and relying on Arab neighbors. Meanwhile, Suez continues its quarrelsome course. Black squares locate oil, basic reason for any trouble at all.

Leader Found Dead

Fire Kills Woman

JACKSON (AP)—Winnie Helm, 73, burned to death at her home in nearby Wellston when her clothing ignited from an open mantle gas stove.

MEDICAL STUDENTS in Havana, Cuba, get a drenching (upper) from police during demonstration as they tried to put a flower piece on a monument to 10 medical students executed by the Spanish governor in 1871. During the demonstration, eight students and a boy were wounded. Two of the wounded are shown lying on pavement (lower) as police go to their aid. (International Soundphotos)

He Just Couldn't Find Right Speed

DETROIT (AP)—Harry Moore of Smith Creek got two traffic tickets within 20 minutes, one for going too slow, the other for going too fast.

Police said Moore was stopped the first time for driving at only 25 miles an hour in the left hand lane of an expressway. After being ticketed, Moore drove away at a high speed. The arresting officer ticketed him a second time for doing 70 miles an hour. He was fined $35 for the two offenses.

ELZBIETA KRZESINSKA, of Poland, who broke the broad jump Olympic record by four inches, is congratulated (top) in Melbourne, Australia, by Miss Willie White, of Tennessee State University. Miss White took second honors. Miss Krzesinska made a leap of 20 feet, 9¾ inches. At bottom, flashing a victory smile after winning a gold medal, is Adhamar Ferreira Da Silva, of Brazil, who set a new Olympic record for the hop-skip-and-jump event. He set a mark of 53 feet, 7½ inches in the competition. (International Radiophotos)

THE NEW big diplomatic worry in the Middle East is Syria (1), ruled by a pro-Soviet triumvirate which includes the Communist party secretary general. The president and advisers have been reduced to rubber stamp status. Under pressure in the new situation is Iraq (2), which has asked the U. S. for anti-aircraft and other weapons in fear of a Syria-Soviet pinch. Already Iraq's oil pipeline to the Mediterranean outlet in Lebanon (3) has been cut, reducing Iraq's income some $700,000 a day. Syria's signs of satelliteness also discomfit Turkey, which lies in the shadow of the Soviet border (4). Jordan (5) has announced intention of quitting the 1948 treaty of aid from Britain and relying on Arab neighbors. Meanwhile, Suez continues its quarrelsome course. Black squares locate oil, basic reason for any trouble at all.

U. S. Eyes Touchy Problem Of Shipping Oil to Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eisenhower administration officials concerned with the petroleum shortages spreading rapidly in Western Europe because of the Middle East crisis are wrestling with a two-pronged problem.

On the one hand, there is deep concern at the widening split with Britain and France and a desire to demonstrate U. S. friendship and support for those U. S. Allies.

On the other, there is fear that if U. S. oil supplies start moving to Europe in great volume the reduced supplies still going to Europe from Arab countries in the Middle East may be jeopardized.

Fresh urgency has been assigned to U. S. plans for oil deliveries from the Western Hemisphere to offset the grave shortage caused by the blocking of the Suez Canal and damage to pipelines which followed the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt.

However, it is understood that London and Paris have been told that no such program can be set in motion until there is a definite public commitment that all British and French forces will be removed from the Suez Canal area.

This condition, of course, could be removed at any time by President Eisenhower if he should decide that immediate action was needed in the interest of preventing a further rupture in Allied relations.

An indication of Washington's concern over relations with Western Europe came from the State Department Wednesday.

A spokesman denied that the United States is giving favorable consideration to any plan by which U. S. forces would be pulled out of North Atlantic Alliance countries in the foreseeable future. There have been some rumors that this country might agree to such a move if Russia agreed to withdraw troops from her satellites.

Officials said the reason for the denial was that the United States does not want any of its allies to get the idea that American participation in the European defense system has been or will be in any way weakened.

As for the problem of oil-hungry Western Europe, officials said the government is anxious to avoid generating Arab ill will or destroying the favorable attitude created in the Arab world by American denunciation of the attack on Egypt.

Without American assistance, Western Europe faces a largely heatless winter with severe rationing on gasoline and a dangerous reduction in industrial operations.

First Baptist Church Wins Honor Plaque

The Rev. Harold B. Twining, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has received word that the church is to be honored by its denomination at a special recognition service.

The church has been informed by its national board of education and publication that it has earned the highest recognition to be achieved by a Sunday School of the American Baptist Convention.

In recognition, a bronze plaque will be presented to the church as a special feature of the morning worship service Sunday. The plaque will be presented by the pastor on behalf of the American Baptist Convention to Mrs. Eugene Thompson who is chairman of the Board of Christian Education of the local church.

This recognition comes to the church because it has attained the complete standard of achievement for Sunday church schools of the Baptist convention. Under the standard of achievement, 12 goals are set up and only those schools which achieve 10, 11, or 12 goals are eligible to receive the plaque emblematic of denomination-wide recognition. The local church has achieved the highest honor by achieving all 12 goals which merits numerals in gold on the plaque.

ONLY A LIMITED number among the thousands of Sunday church schools of he Baptist convention are receiving this recognition.

Mr. Twining, in speaking of the presentation, said, "The members of our Sunday Church school, and especially the teachers and officers, and the members of our Board of Christian Education are to be commended for their work and devotion. Our church is deeply grateful to those who have served so faithfully and for this high honor which comes from our denomination."

The committee concluded the law would "weaken the collective bargaining process to the detriment of labor relations in public utilities in Ohio." It said the governor now has adequate powers to maintain law and order "and that if resort is had to those remedies and law enforcement is restored, telephone service could be resumed."

"It is our feeling," the committee declared, "that the public interest would not be served by legislation conceived in the heat of dispute and passed without adequate study."

Acting Prime Minister R. A. Butler previously had stated the British-French forces would not withdraw from the northern portion of the canal zone until the U. N. police force could guarantee peace between Egypt and Israel and free passage through the Suez Canal by all nations.

MEANWHILE, in the Suez Canal Zone, Egyptian authorities reported two enemy planes attacked Egyptian positions near Ismailia.

Brig. Gen. Amin Helmy, Egyptian liaison officer with U. N. police forces here, said two Venom jet fighters strafed administrative trucks and antiaircraft gun positions near Ismailia, midway point of the Suez Canal and not far from the U. N. base. The Venom fighters then flew south.

Helmy reported that two Myjet fighters appeared over the same area later.

Helmy said the planes, "whether they were Israeli, British or French, are all enemies of ours."

The Venom is a British-made plane. The Mystere a French plane.

Three Yugoslav ships landed 742 troops assigned to the U. N. Emergency Force (UNEF) in Port Said today.

The Yugoslavs were the first U. N. troops to be landed in Egypt by ship. The other troops have been flown in.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced in New York that he expects to have 4,100 troops in Egypt within two weeks. He said about 4,500 officers and men from eight countries had so far been accepted for the U. N. force. Nearly 2,500 have arrived in the Suez area.

attorney in Columbus. His daughters, Mrs. Rollo Marchant and Mrs. Robert Olinger, live in this area.

Once retired, he plans to "work in his workshop and help out the kids."

HISER, who has lived in Milledgeville all of his 70 years, has been delivering the mail on Route 3 since 1938. Before entering the postal service here in 1918, he had worked four years with the railway mail division on the Pennsylvania Railroad. And prior to that job, he taught elementary schools in Paint, Jasper and Union Townships for 12 years.

When Hiser first began delivering mail, he used a horse and wagon. He is the last local carrier to have done so.

Hiser remembers having an automobile accident some 25 or 30 years ago. He couldn't recall the year, but knew it was in "Model T days." He was hit head-on by another car as he drove along Palmer Rd. Fortunately, no bones were broken in the mishap.

"We went a little slower in those days," he explained.

Hiser also told of being snowbound in his own home in the blizzard of 1950. He couldn't get out to deliver the mail for four days.

The retiring mail carrier has a son, Charles, a farmer who lives nearby. He also has five grandchildren, ranging in age from one to 10 years old.

HE PLANS to devote his time to raising chickens and "maybe some berries."

"But," he said, "I have no special plans. I'm just going to take it easy and enjoy myself."

Asked if he would help out on his son's farm, he said he wasn't sure.

Said Mrs. Hiser: "I hope he isn't going to work."

The banquet Wednesday night was given by employes of the Post Office, and the retiring men's wives. Besides the certificates, Hiser was given a wristwatch and Sexton was given a clock-radio.

The two men will be replaced by Ralph N. Baughn and Phillip Douglas. The department has not yet decided which man will take which route.

U. S. Eyes Touchy Problem Of Shipping Oil to Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eisenhower administration officials concerned with the petroleum shortages spreading rapidly in Western Europe because of the Middle East crisis are wrestling with a two-pronged problem.

On the one hand, there is deep concern at the widening split with Britain and France and a desire to demonstrate U. S. friendship and support for those U. S. Allies.

On the other, there is fear that if U. S. oil supplies start moving to Europe in great volume the reduced supplies still going to Europe from Arab countries in the Middle East may be jeopardized.

Fresh urgency has been assigned to U. S. plans for oil deliveries from the Western Hemisphere to offset the grave shortage caused by the blocking of the Suez Canal and damage to pipelines which followed the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt.

However, it is understood that London and Paris have been told that no such program can be set in motion until there is a definite public commitment that all British and French forces will be removed from the Suez Canal area.

This condition, of course, could be removed at any time by President Eisenhower if he should decide that immediate action was needed in the interest of preventing a further rupture in Allied relations.

An indication of Washington's concern over relations with Western Europe came from the State Department Wednesday.

A spokesman denied that the United States is giving favorable consideration to any plan by which U. S. forces would be pulled out of North Atlantic Alliance countries in the foreseeable future. There have been some rumors that this country might agree to such a move if Russia agreed to withdraw troops from her satellites.

Officials said the reason for the denial was that the United States does not want any of its allies to get the idea that American participation in the European defense system has been or will be in any way weakened.

As for the problem of oil-hungry Western Europe, officials said the government is anxious to avoid generating Arab ill will or destroying the favorable attitude created in the Arab world by American denunciation of the attack on Egypt.

Without American assistance, Western Europe faces a largely heatless winter with severe rationing on gasoline and a dangerous reduction in industrial operations.

First Baptist Church Wins Honor Plaque

The Rev. Harold B. Twining, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has received word that the church is to be honored by its denomination at a special recognition service.

The church has been informed by its national board of education and publication that it has earned the highest recognition to be achieved by a Sunday School of the American Baptist Convention.

In recognition, a bronze plaque will be presented to the church as a special feature of the morning worship service Sunday. The plaque will be presented by the pastor on behalf of the American Baptist Convention to Mrs. Eugene Thompson who is chairman of the Board of Christian Education of the local church.

This recognition comes to the church because it has attained the complete standard of achievement for Sunday church schools of the Baptist convention. Under the standard of achievement, 12 goals are set up and only those schools which achieve 10, 11, or 12 goals are eligible to receive the plaque emblematic of denomination-wide recognition. The local church has achieved the highest honor by achieving all 12 goals which merits numerals in gold on the plaque.

ONLY A LIMITED number among the thousands of Sunday church schools of he Baptist convention are receiving this recognition.

Mr. Twining, in speaking of the presentation, said, "The members of our Sunday Church school, and especially the teachers and officers, and the members of our Board of Christian Education are to be commended for their work and devotion. Our church is deeply grateful to those who have served so faithfully and for this high honor which comes from our denomination."

not be made in a brief session.

The committee concluded the law would "weaken the collective bargaining process to the detriment of labor relations in public utilities in Ohio." It said the governor now has adequate powers to maintain law and order "and that if resort is had to those remedies and law enforcement is restored, telephone service could be resumed."

"It is our feeling," the committee declared, "that the public interest would not be served by legislation conceived in the heat of dispute and passed without adequate study."

Before it was discovered in 1910 that the Sargasso Sea was not completely covered with seaweed, it was thought that a ship could become imbedded and would be unable to escape.

Acting Prime Minister R. A. Butler previously had stated the British-French forces would not withdraw from the northern portion of the canal zone until the U. N. police force could guarantee peace between Egypt and Israel and free passage through the Suez Canal by all nations.

MEANWHILE, in the Suez Canal Zone, Egyptian authorities reported two enemy planes attacked Egyptian positions near Ismailia.

Brig. Gen. Amin Helmy, Egyptian liaison officer with U. N. police forces here, said two Venom jet fighters strafed administrative trucks and antiaircraft gun positions near Ismailia, midway point of the Suez Canal and not far from the U. N. base. The Venom fighters then flew south.

Helmy reported that two Myjet fighters appeared over the same area later.

Helmy said the planes, "whether they were Israeli, British or French, are all enemies of ours."

The Venom is a British-made plane. The Mystere a French plane.

Three Yugoslav ships landed 742 troops assigned to the U. N. Emergency Force (UNEF) in Port Said today.

The Yugoslavs were the first U. N. troops to be landed in Egypt by ship. The other troops have been flown in.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced in New York that he expects to have 4,100 troops in Egypt within two weeks. He said about 4,500 officers and men from eight countries had so far been accepted for the U. N. force. Nearly 2,500 have arrived in the Suez area.

attorney in Columbus. His daughters, Mrs. Rollo Marchant and Mrs. Robert Olinger, live in this area.

Once retired, he plans to "work in his workshop, and help out the kids."

HISER, who has lived in Milledgeville all of his 70 years, has been delivering the mail on Route 3 since 1938. Before entering the postal service here in 1918, he had worked four years with the railway mail division on the Pennsylvania Railroad. And prior to that job, he taught elementary schools in Paint, Jasper and Union Townships for 12 years.

When Hiser first began delivering mail, he used a horse and wagon. He is the last local carrier to have done so.

Hiser remembers having an automobile accident some 25 or 30 years ago. He couldn't recall the year, but knew it was in "Model T days." He was hit head-on by another car as he drove along Palmer Rd. Fortunately, no bones were broken in the mishap.

"We went a little slower in those days," he explained.

Hiser also told of being snowbound in his own home in the blizzard of 1950. He couldn't get out to deliver the mail for four days.

The retiring mail carrier has a son, Charles, a farmer who lives nearby. He also has five grandchildren, ranging in age from one to 10 years old.

HE PLANS to devote his time to raising chickens and "maybe some berries."

"But," he said, "I have no special plans. I'm just going to take it easy and enjoy myself."

Asked if he would help out on his son's farm, he said he wasn't sure.

Said Mrs. Hiser: "I hope he isn't going to work."

The banquet Wednesday night was given by employes of the Post Office, and the retiring men's wives. Besides the certificates, Hiser was given a wristwatch and Sexton was given a clock-radio.

The two men will be replaced by Ralph N. Baughn and Phillip Douglas. The department has not yet decided which man will take which route.
